

How to Use

What is Evernote?

It allows you to take down notes, create checklists, attach photos or videos and clip webpages you have viewed and at the same time has file sharing and cloud storage features. Remember everything, anytime and anywhere using Evernote!

In this short tutorial, you will learn how Evernote works.

This is the Evernote home screen

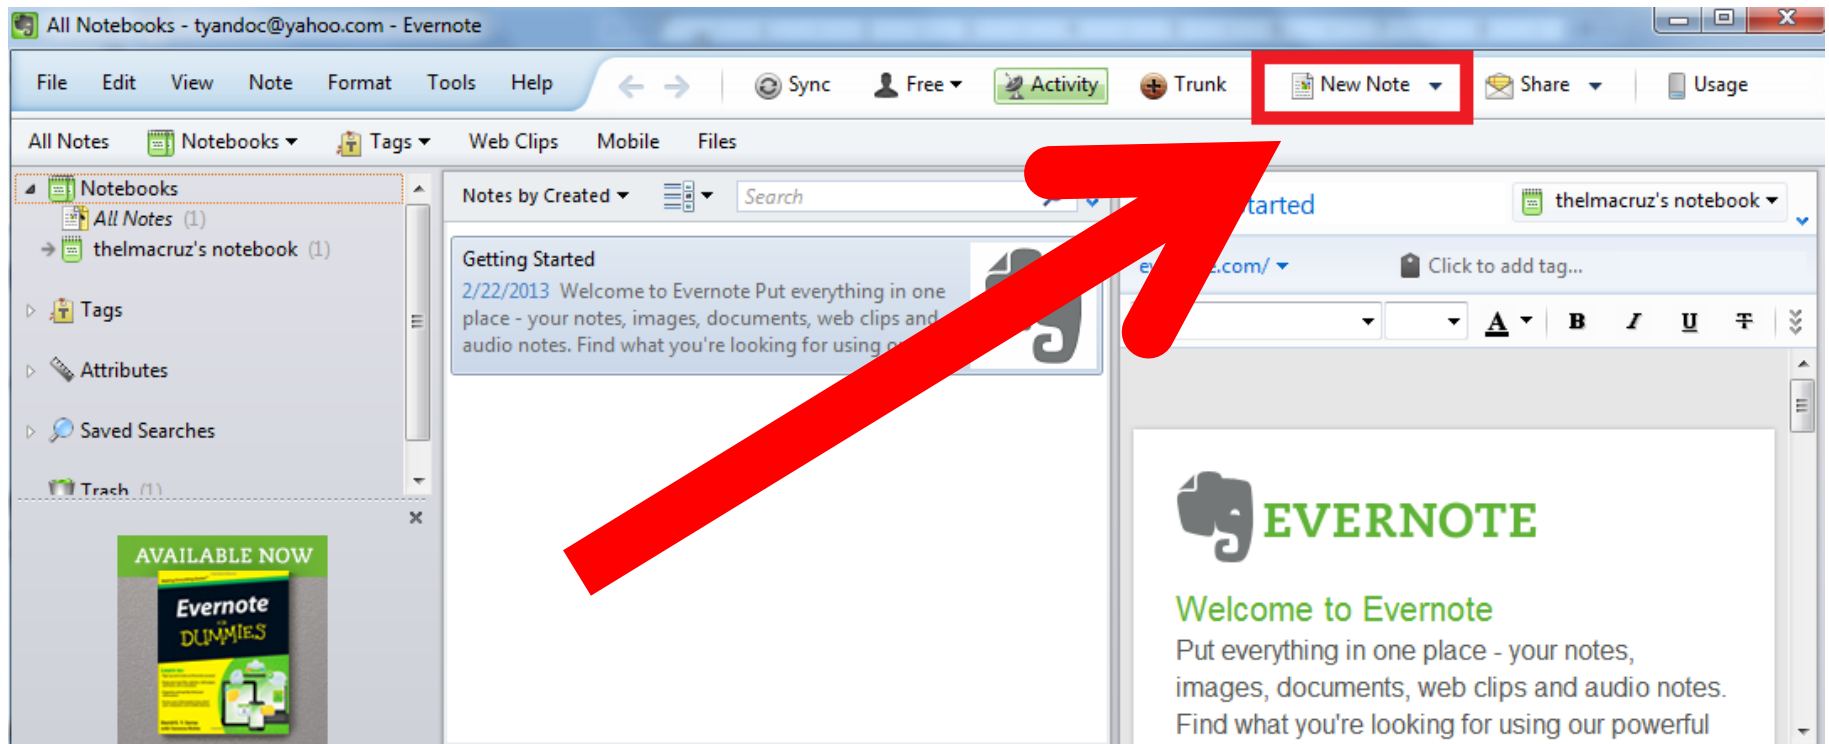

Here are a few terms that we must keep in mind

- Note : A single item stored in Evernote.
- Notebook : A container for notes.
- Sync : The process by which your Evernote notes are kept up to date across all of your computers, phones, devices and the Web.
- Account : A username and password that allows Evernote to identify your notes and make them available to you anywhere.

Creating your first note

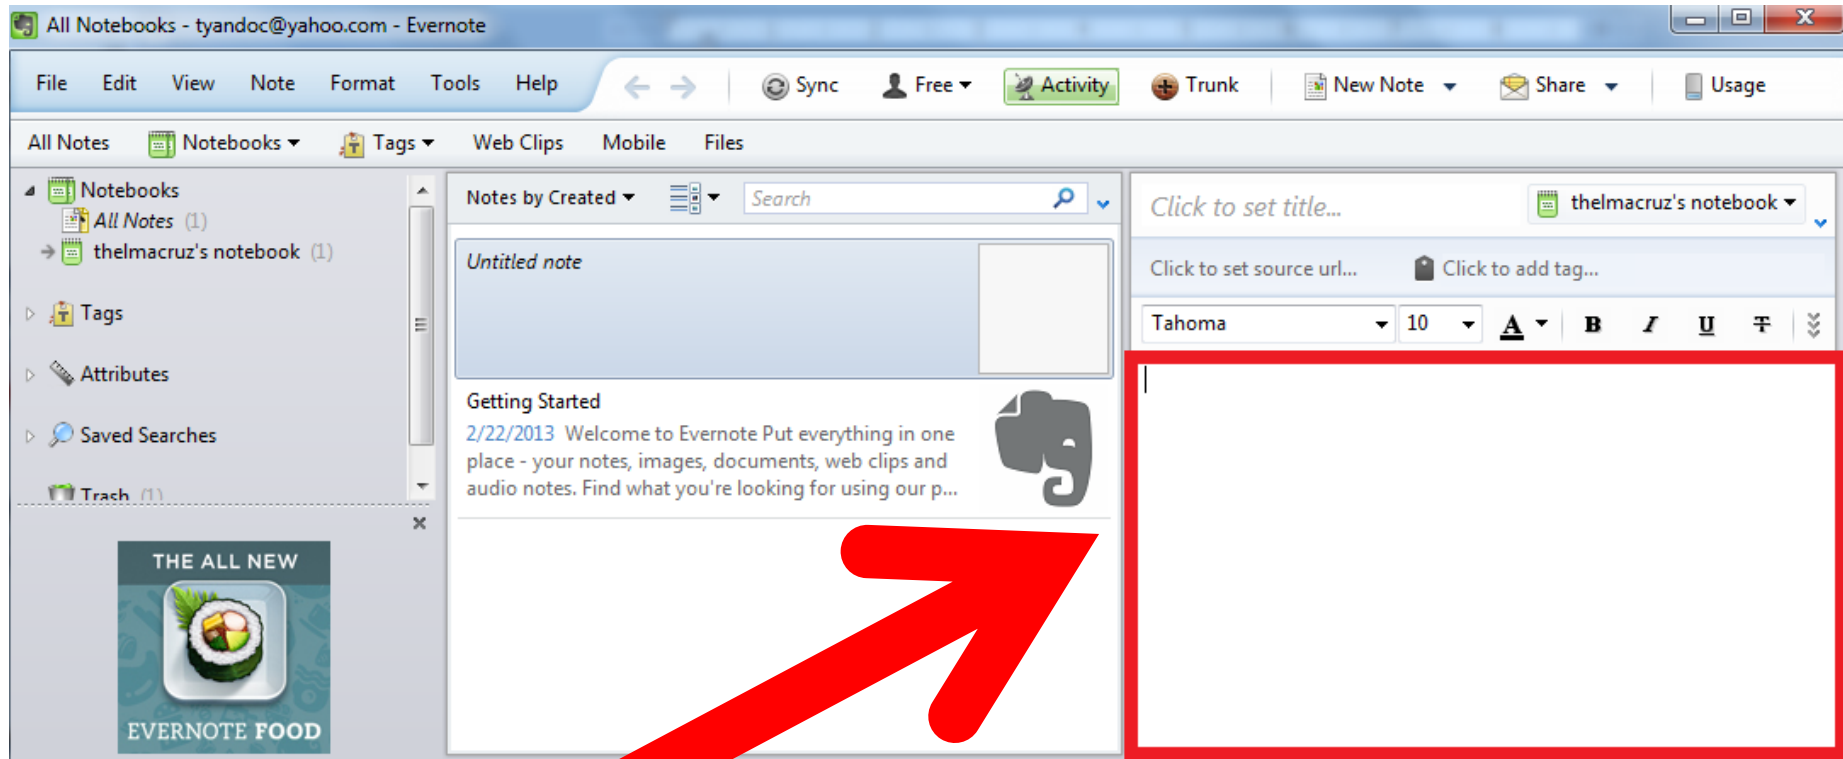

Click the “New Note” found at the top of the main Evernote window

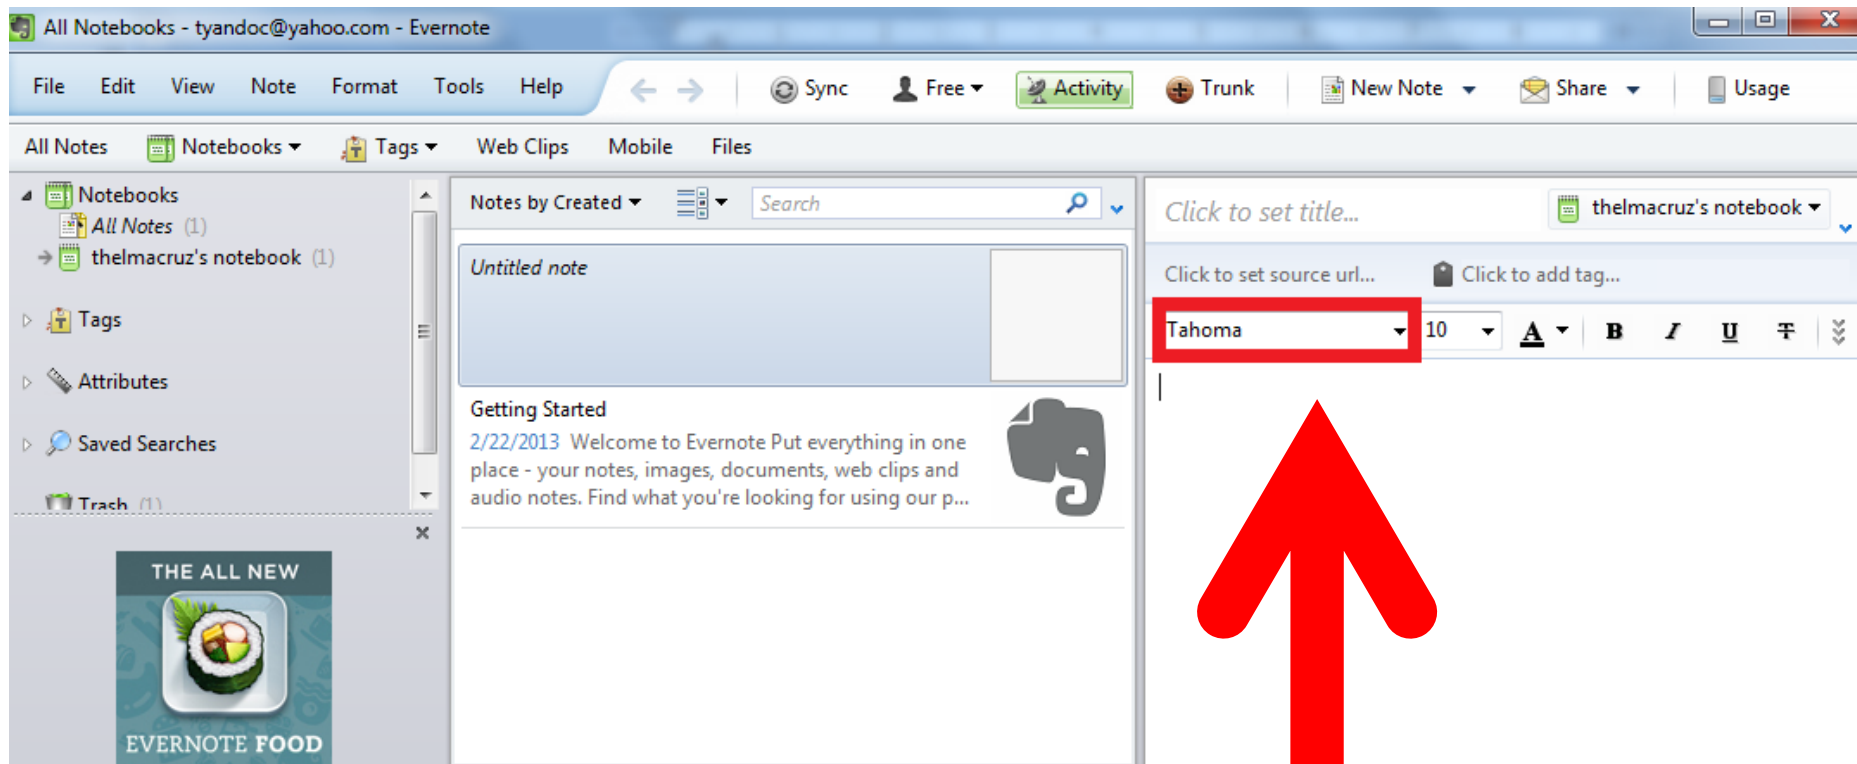

You can give the note any title you like

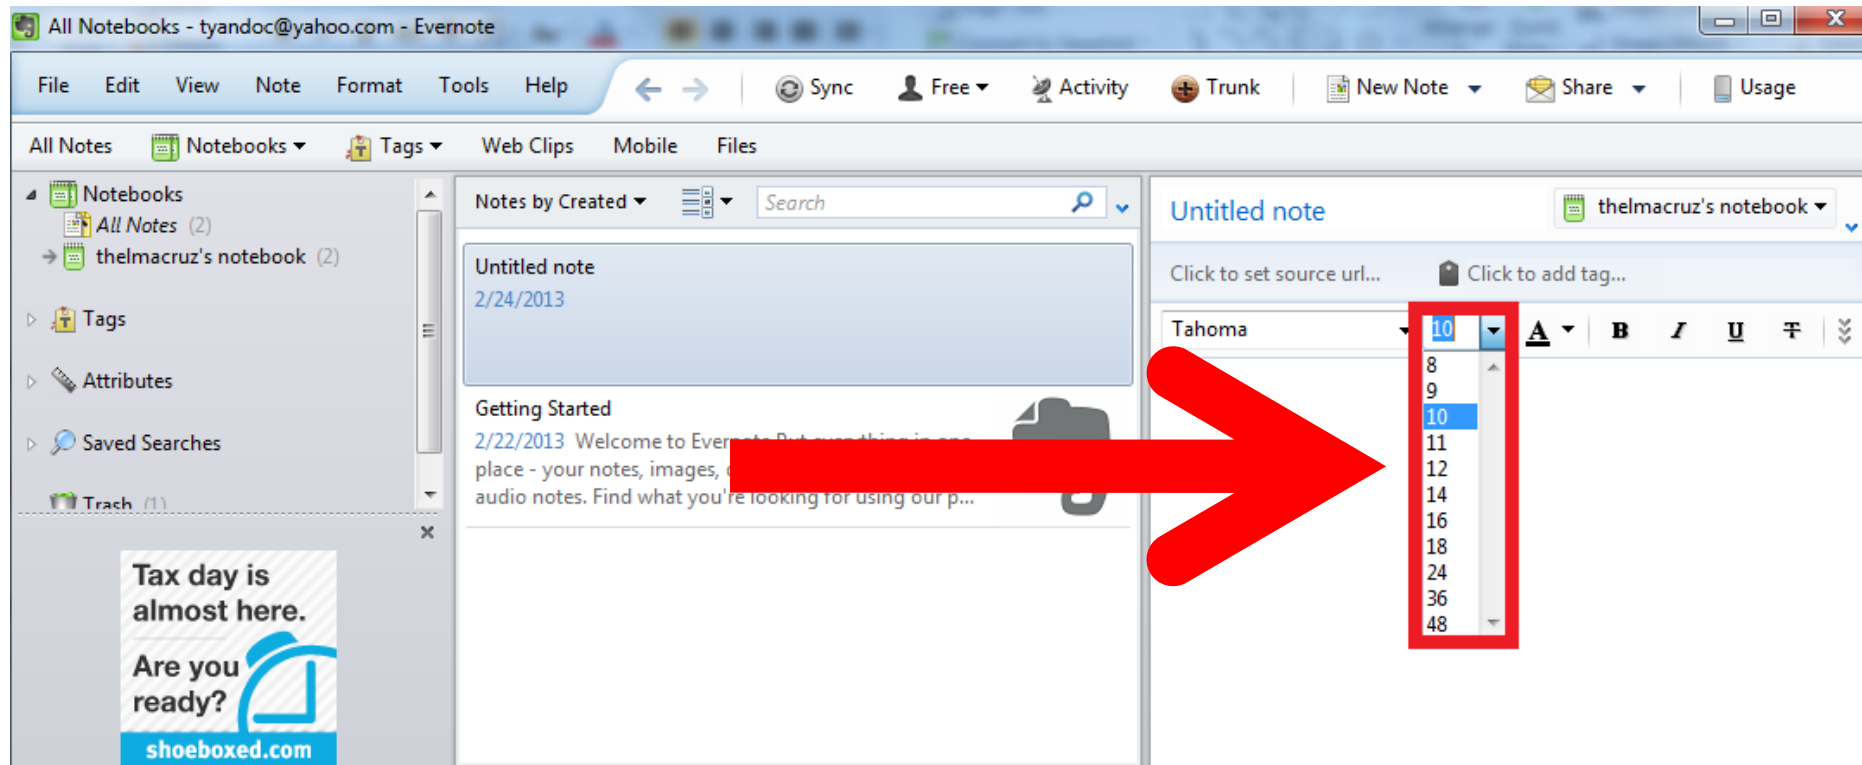

Now, click in the main body of the note and start typing

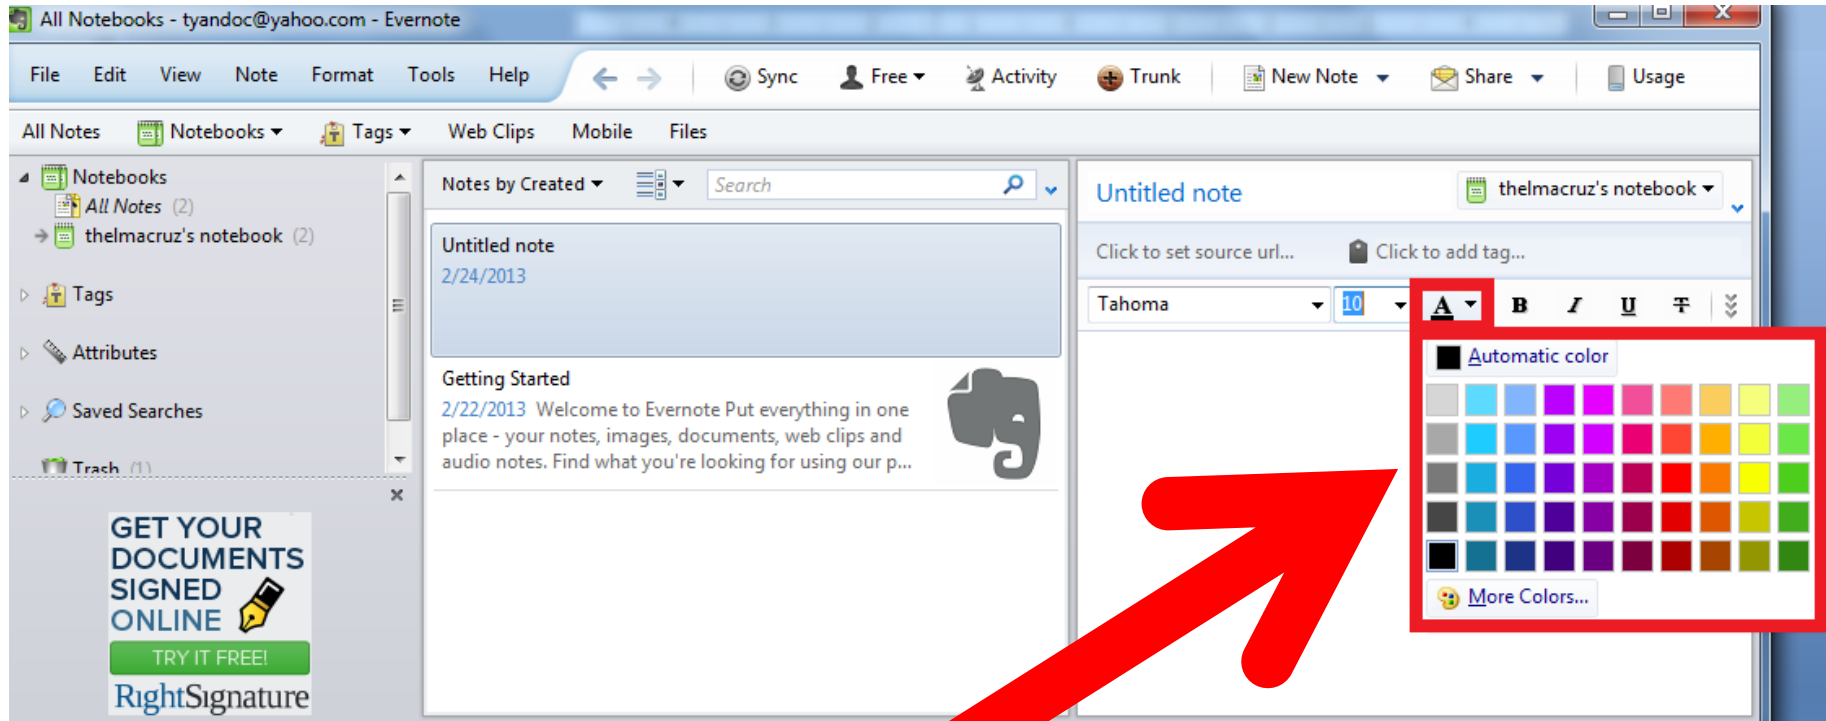

You can change the font

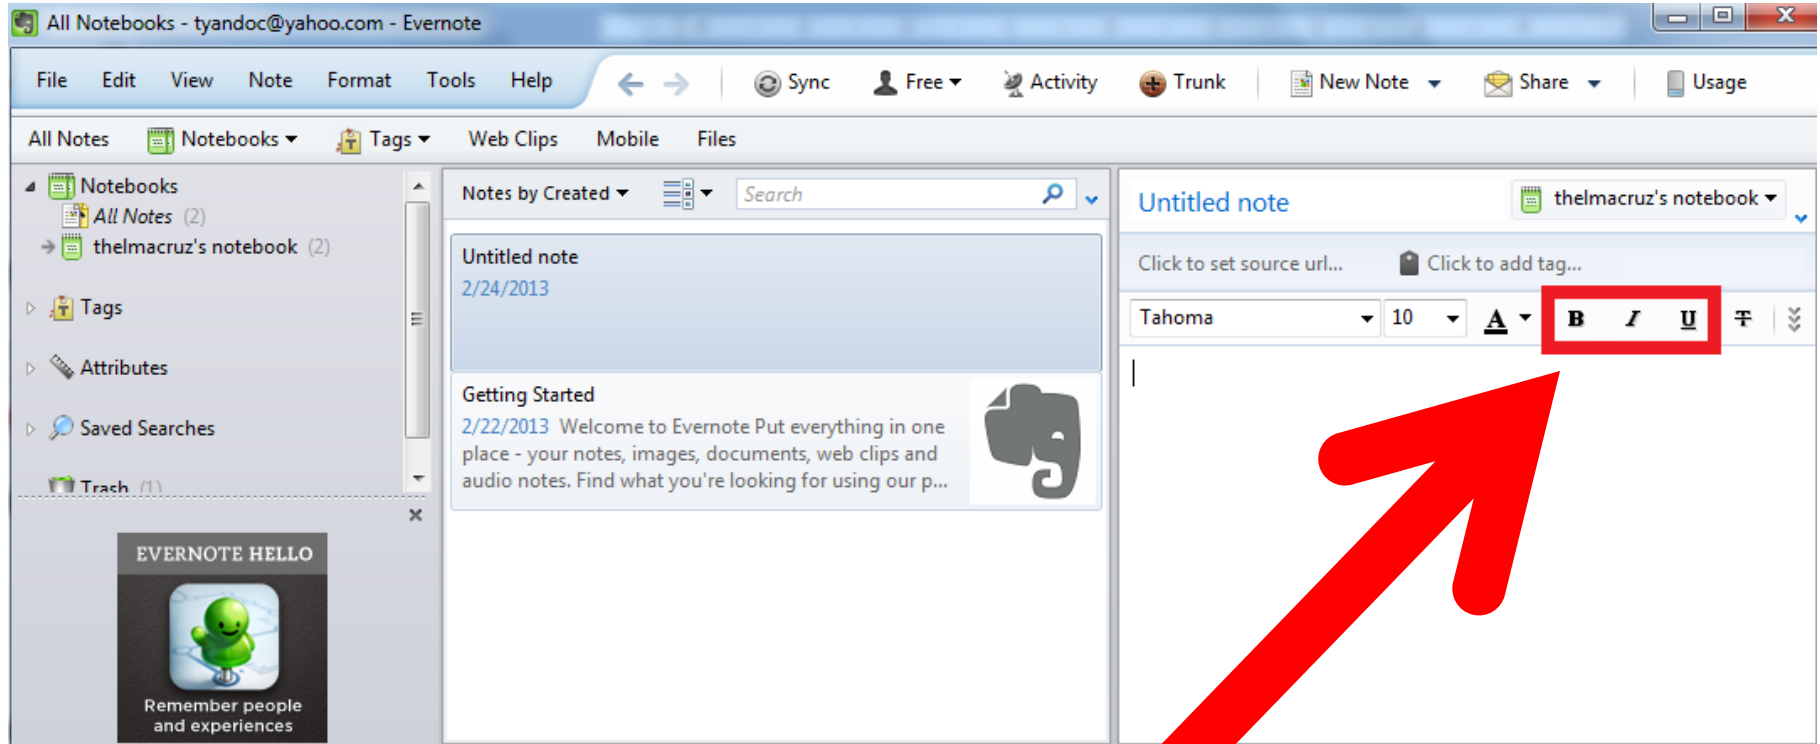

You can change the font size

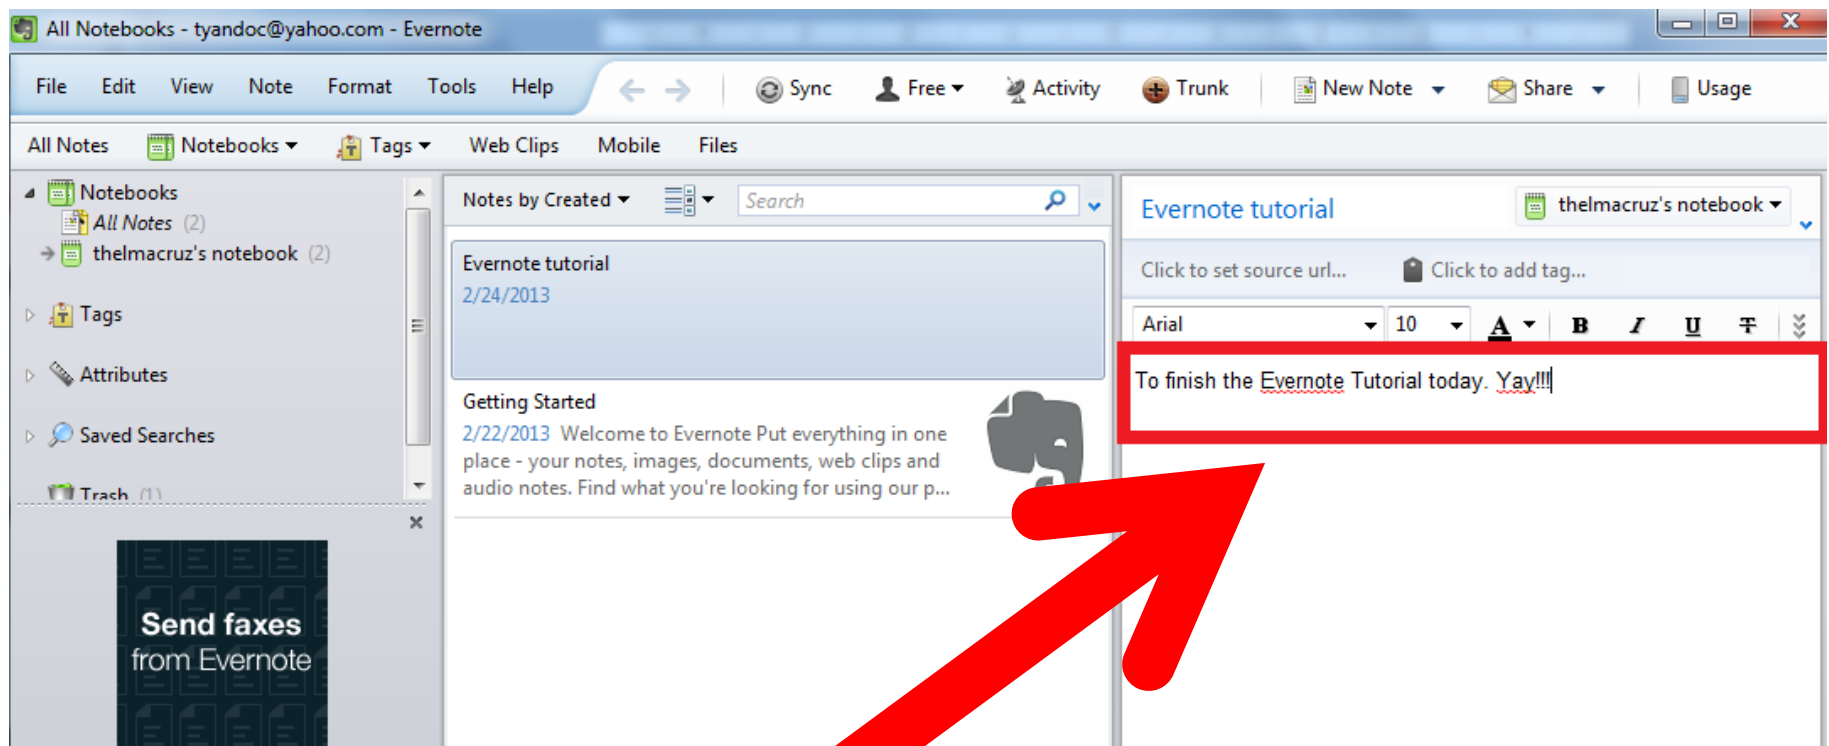

You can change the color of the text

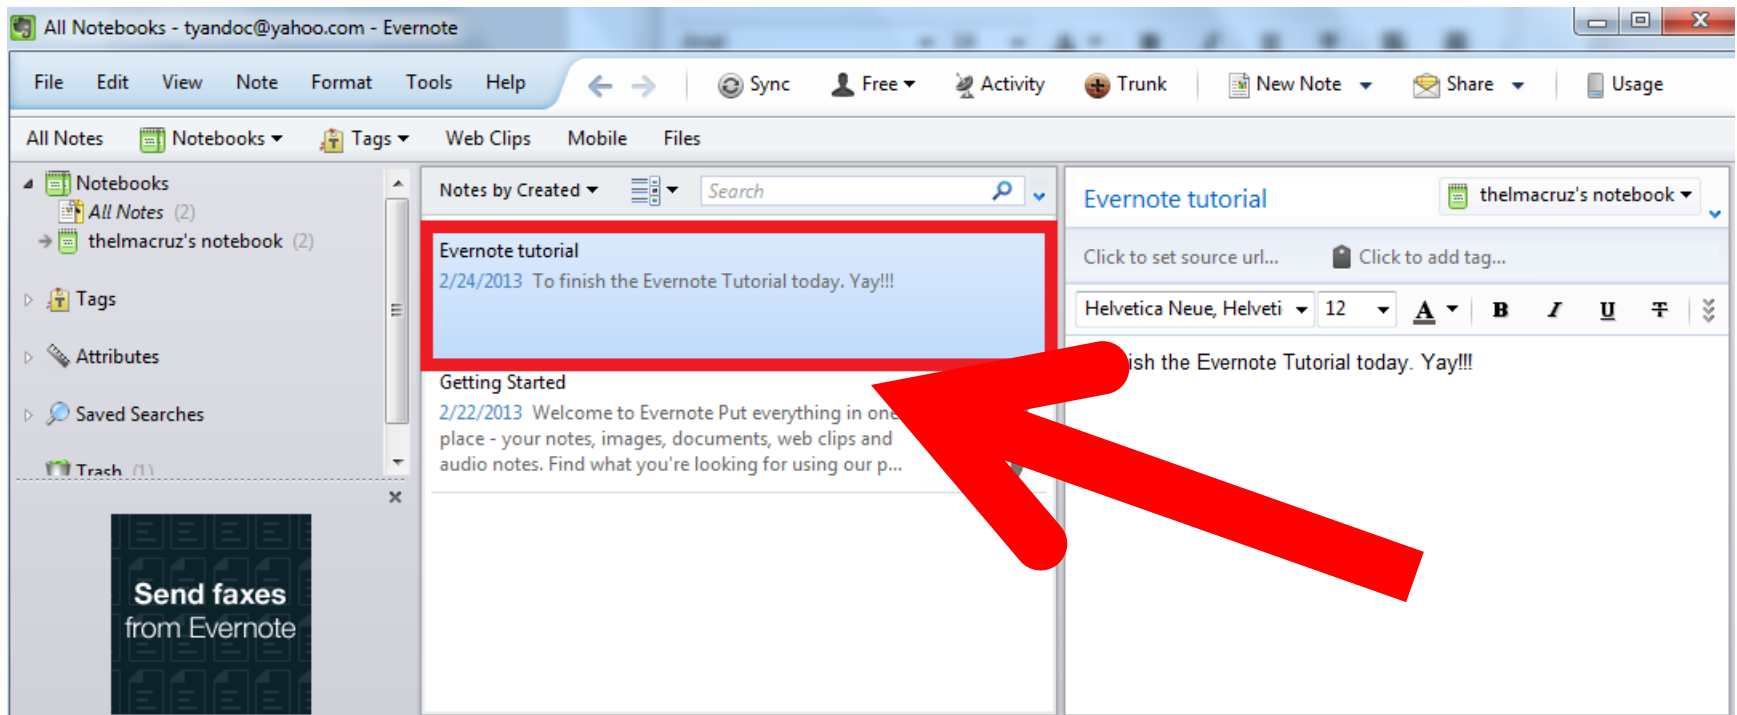

You can also bold, italicize or underline the text

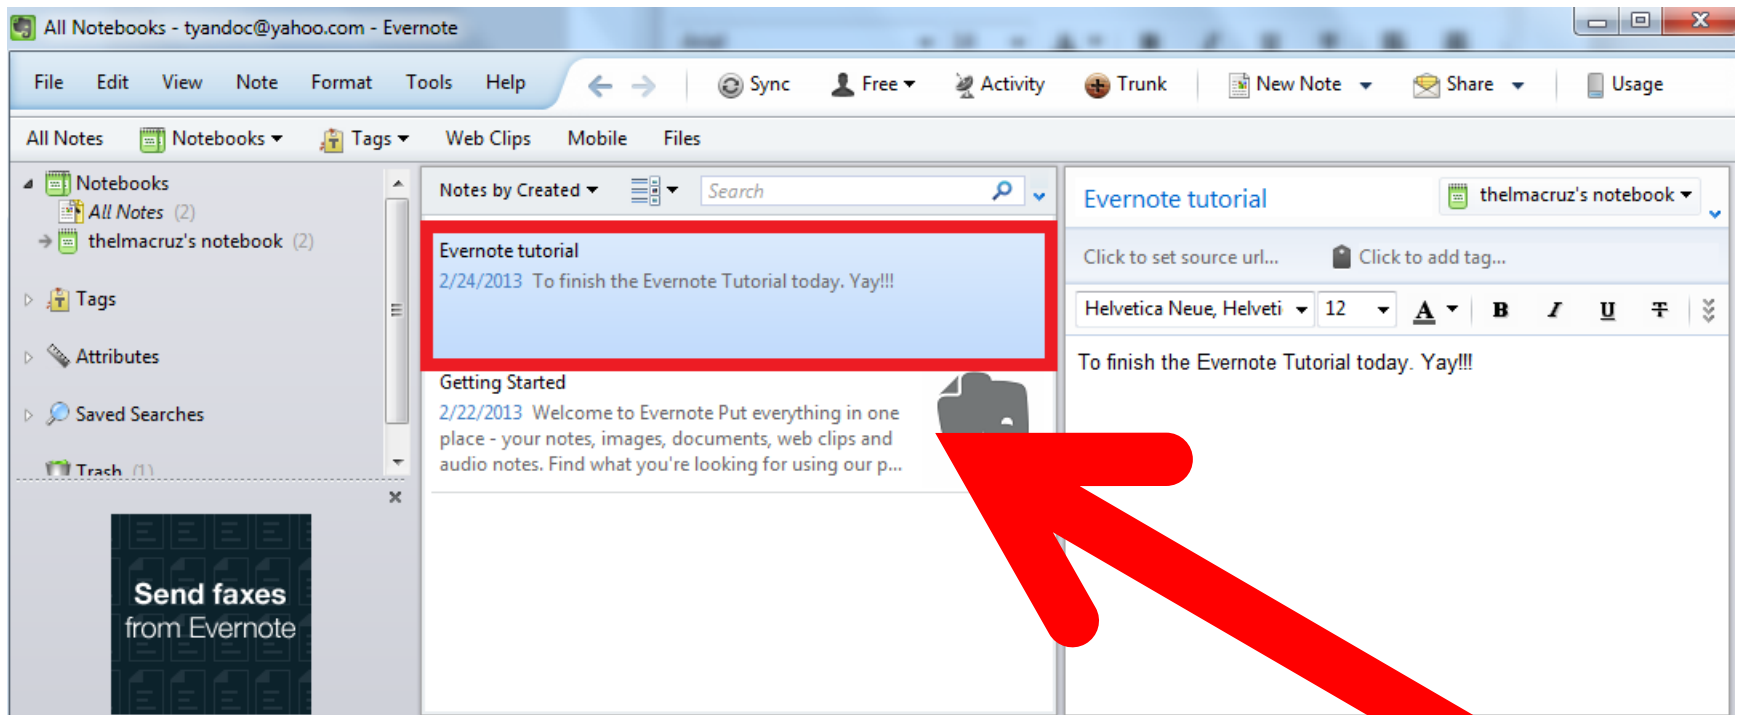

Hit enter when done with the text. For example...

It will go to the note list....

Where it displays all your account notes

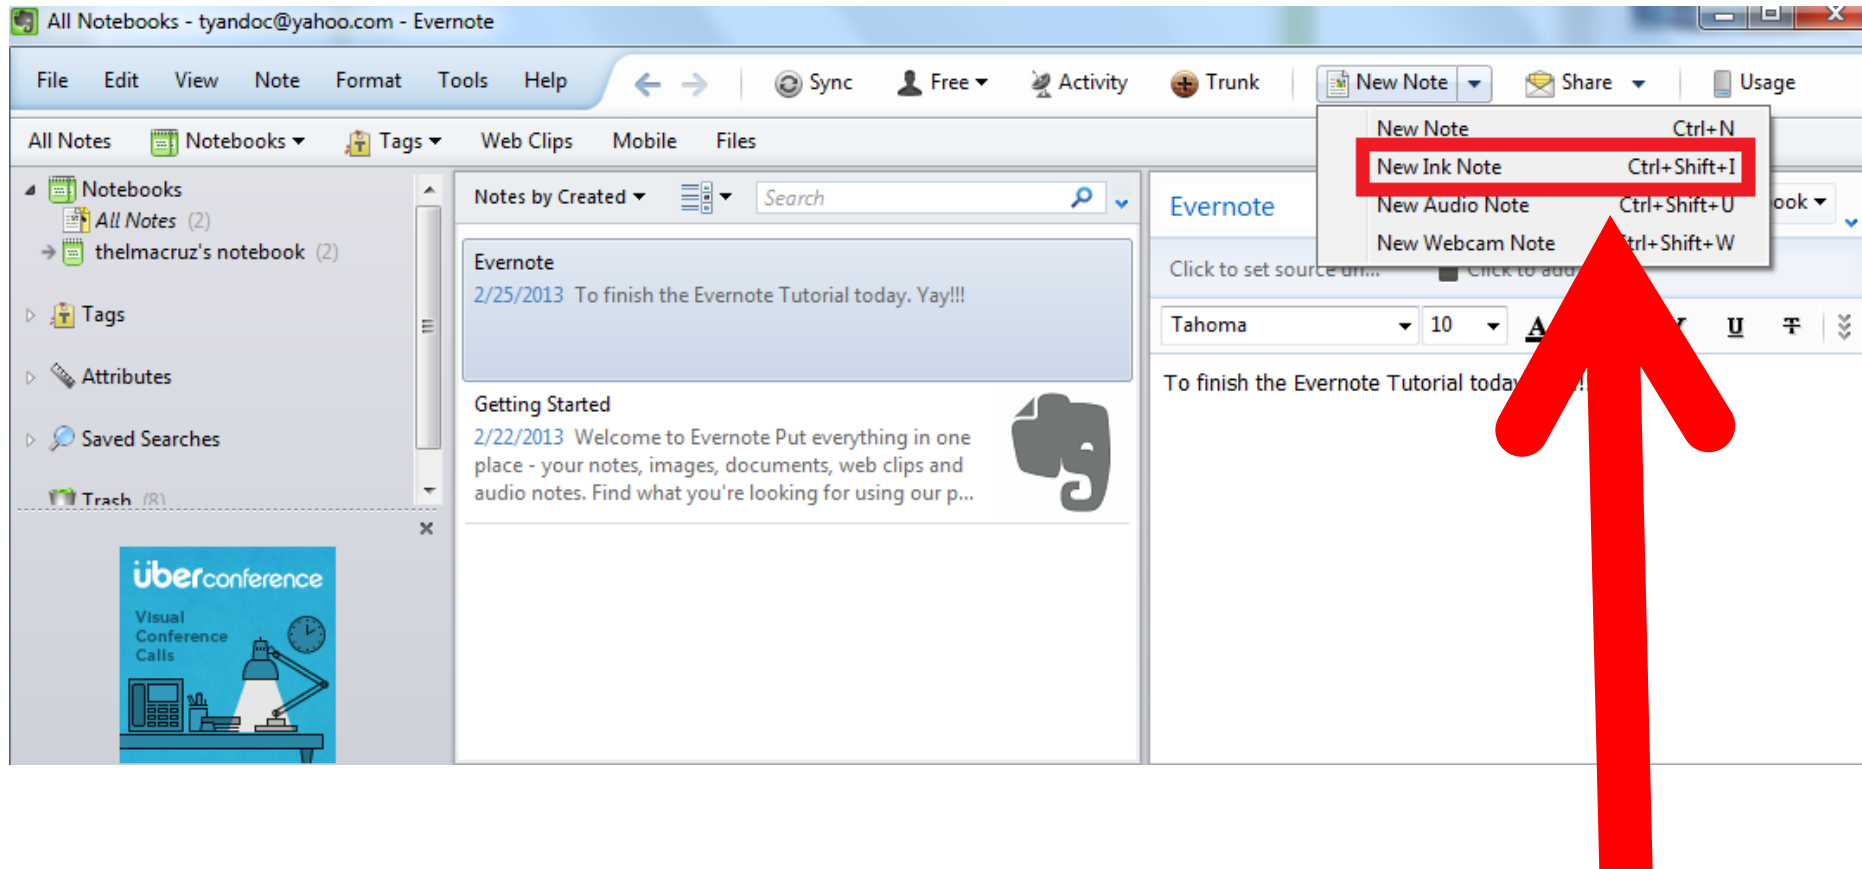

It's as simple as that

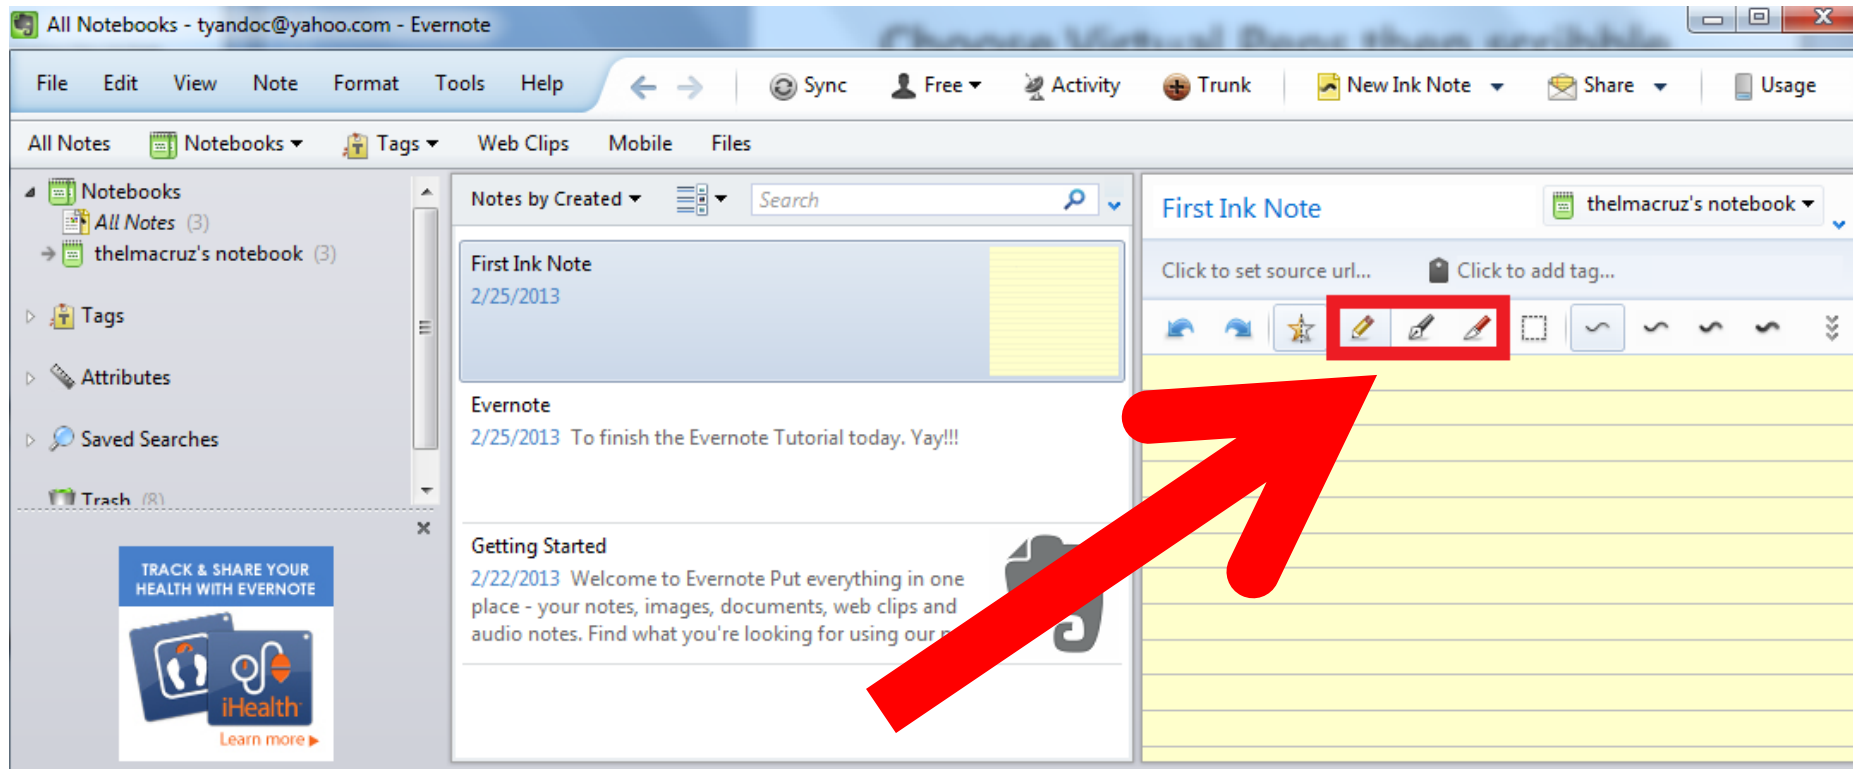

Once you're finished typing your note, you don't need to do anything else. Evernote will automatically save and synchronize your new note to Evernote on the Web. That same note will then be available on all of your devices where Evernote is installed.

Creating a New Ink Note

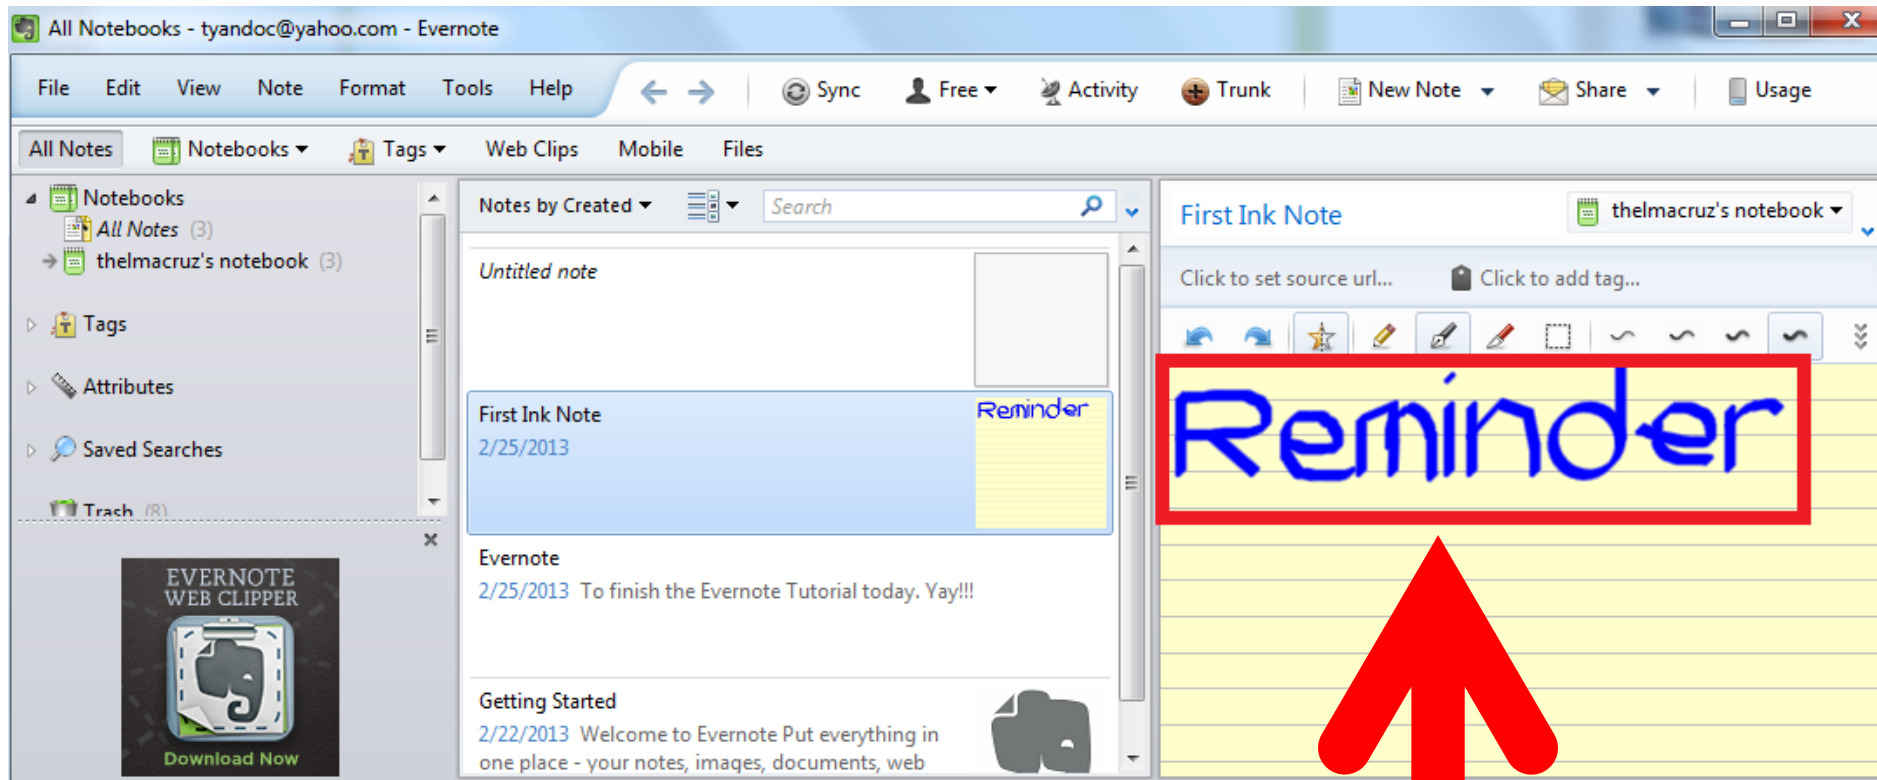

Go to drop down of New Note and choose New Ink Note

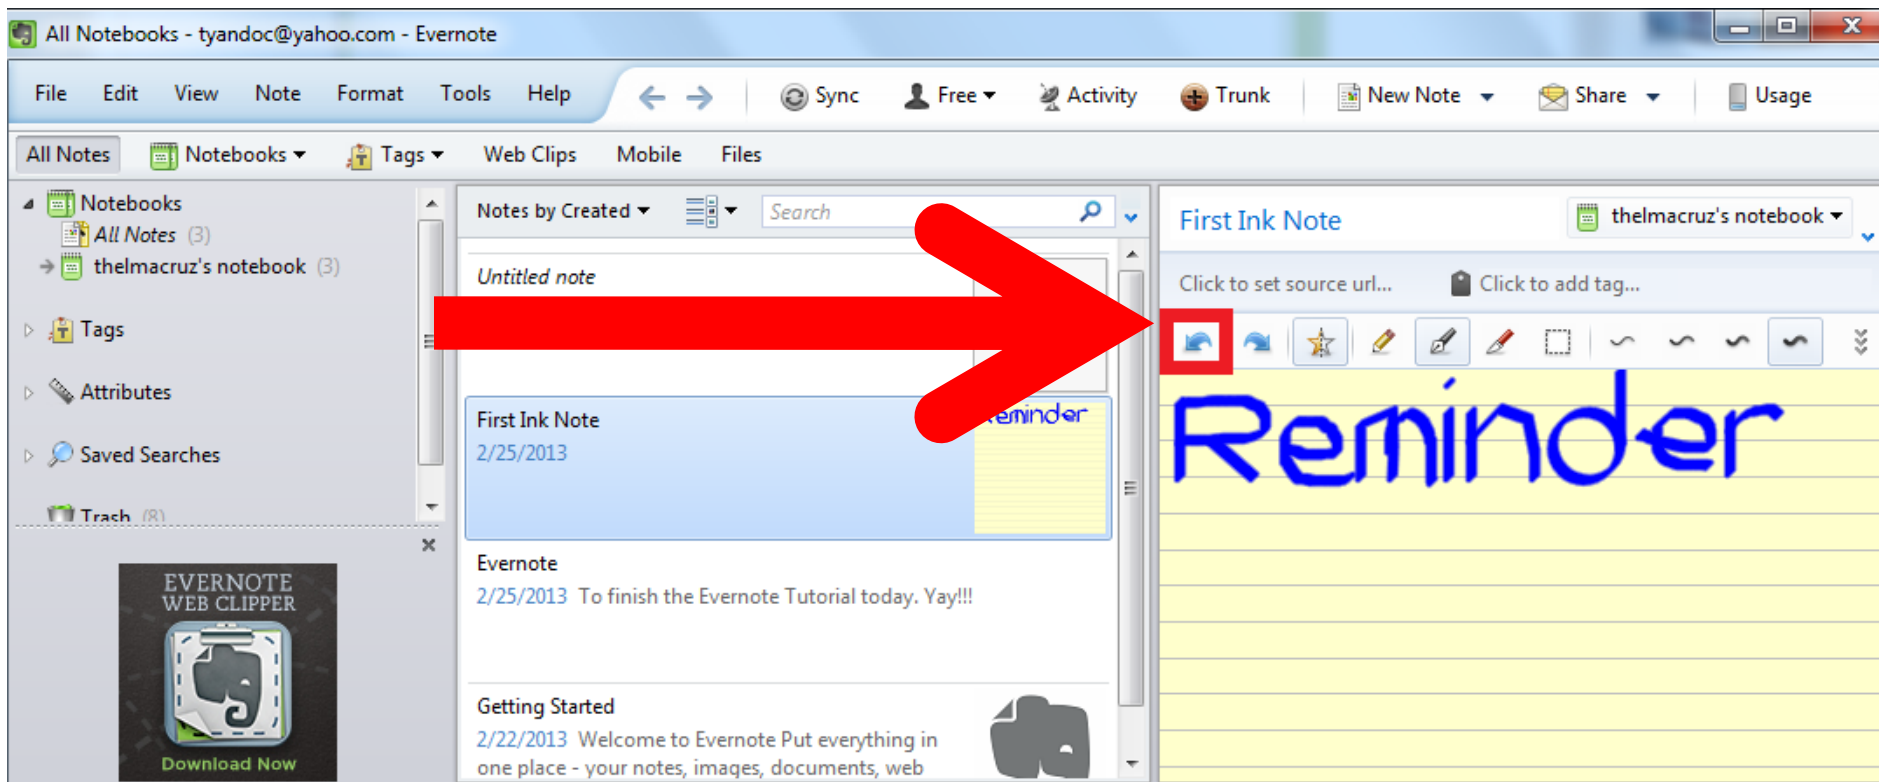

Choose Virtual Pens...

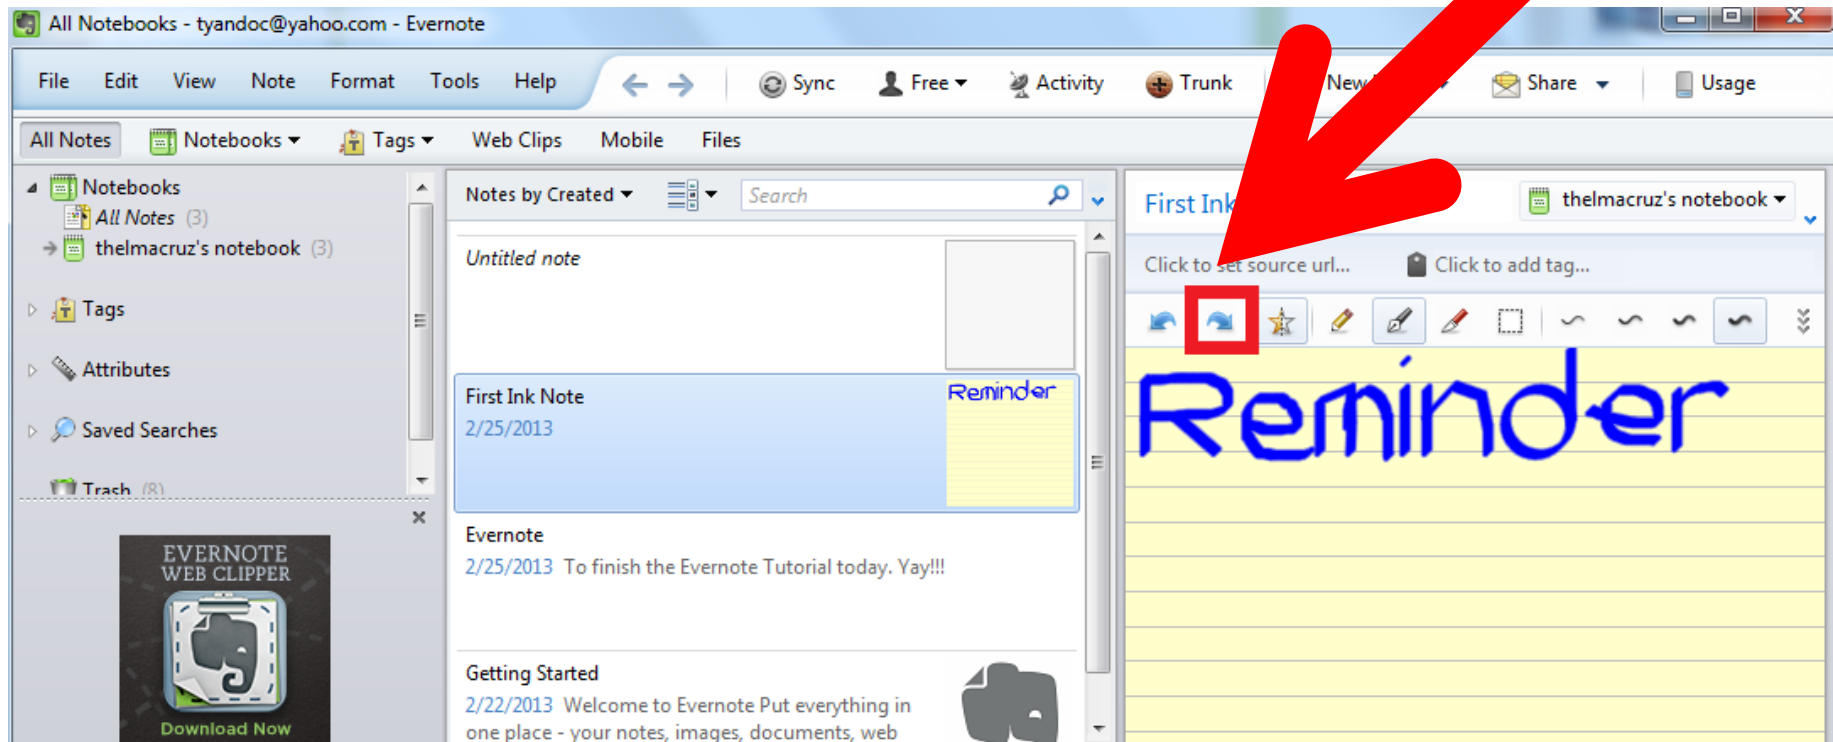

...then scribble words or images...

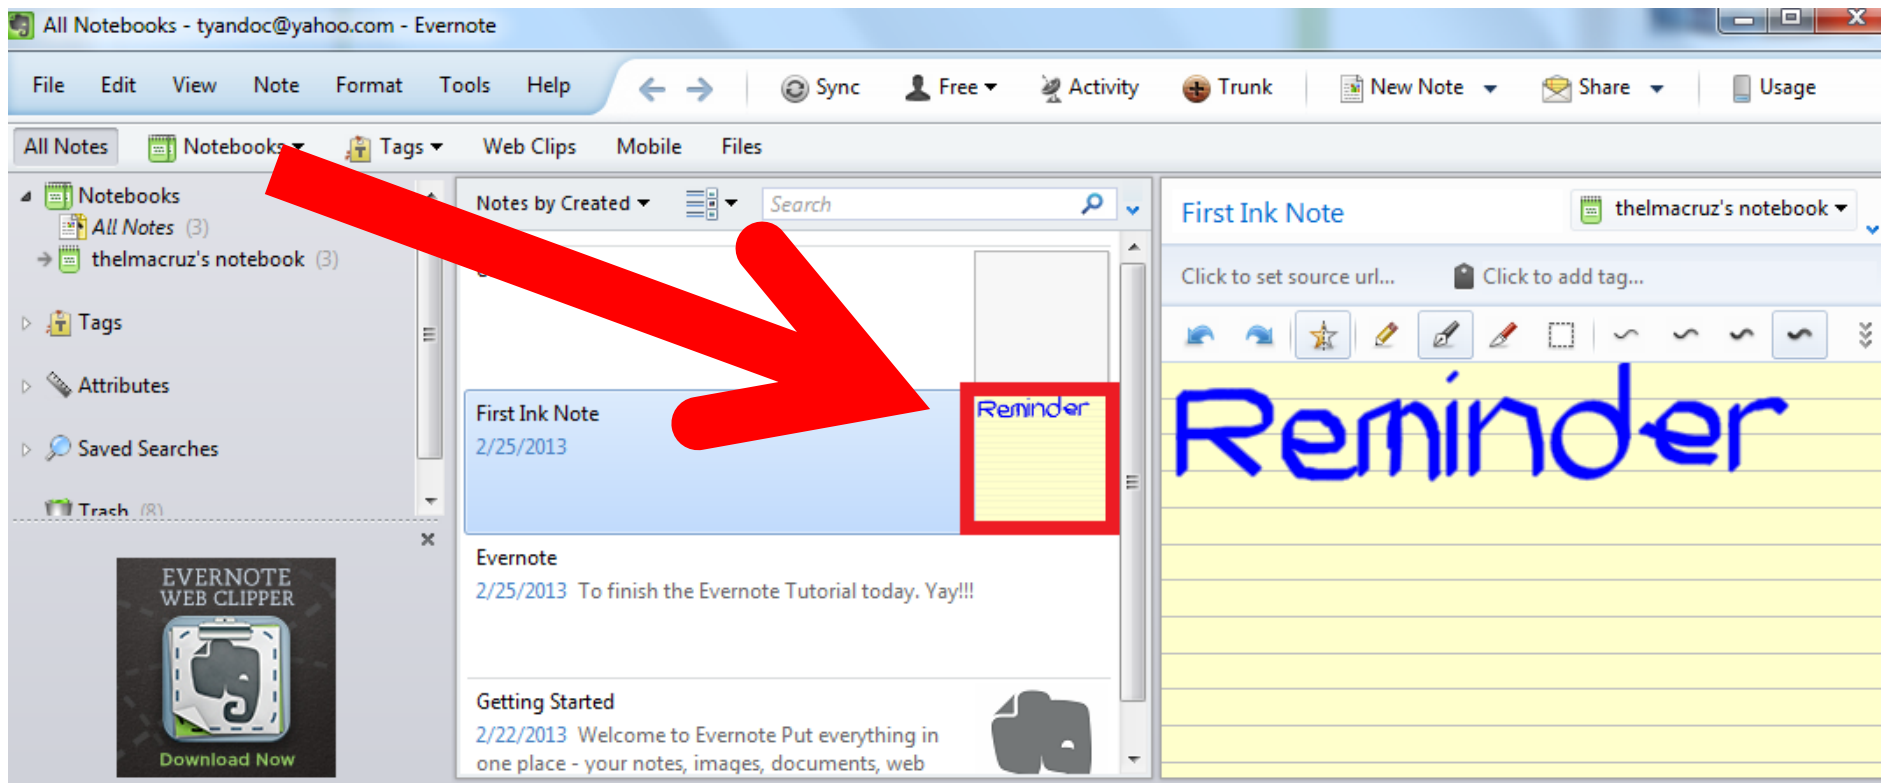

You can use the Undo arrow to erase the ink

You can use this arrow to repeat writing

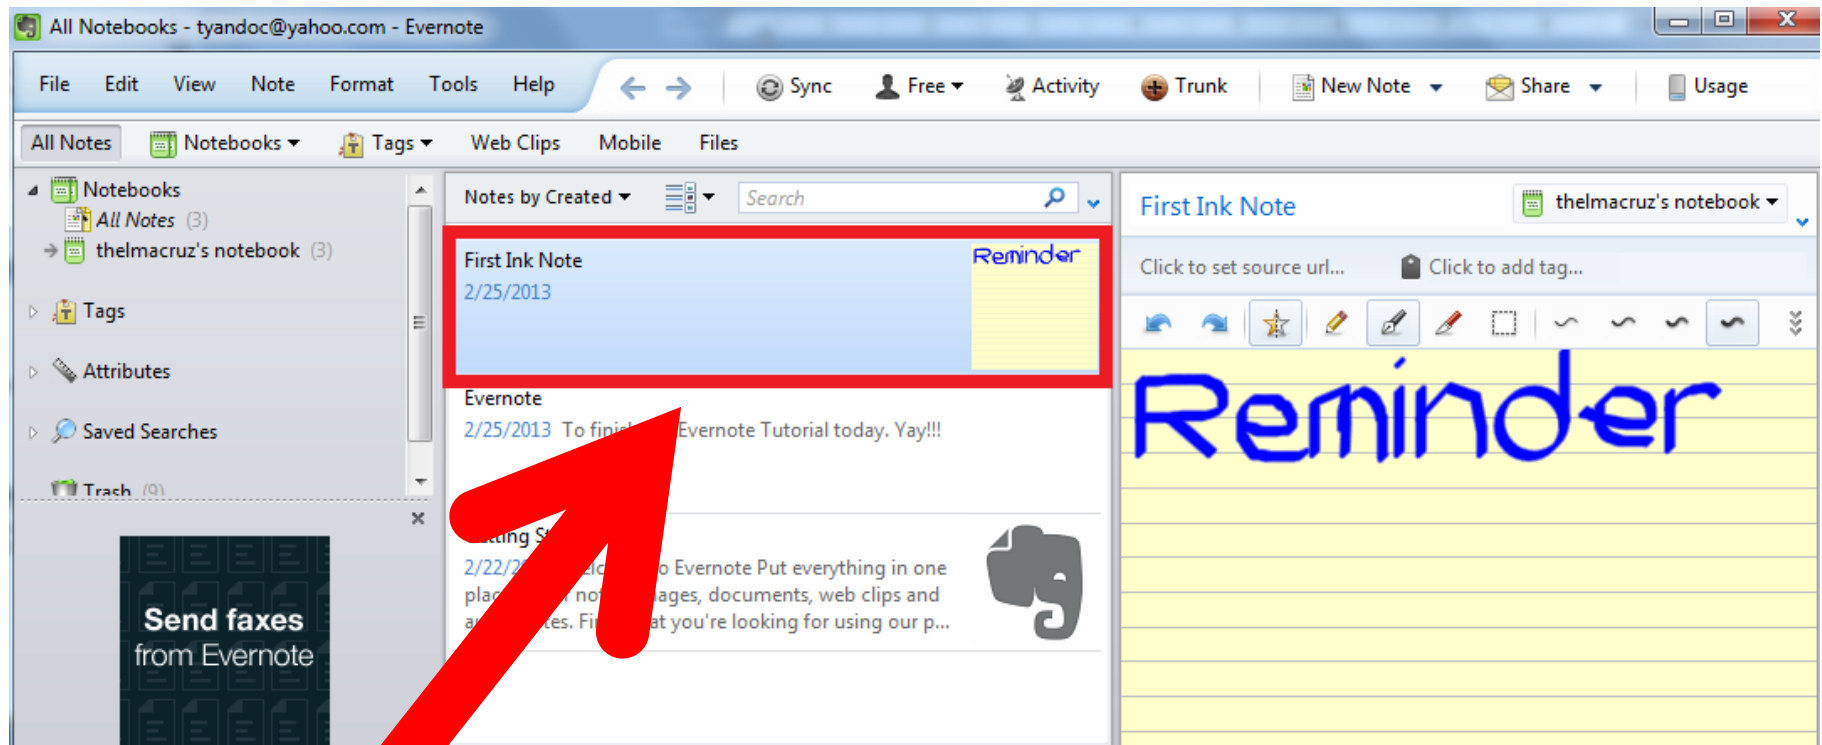

You can see your ink note in the note list

To Delete a Note

Go to the Note List. Choose the note to be deleted...

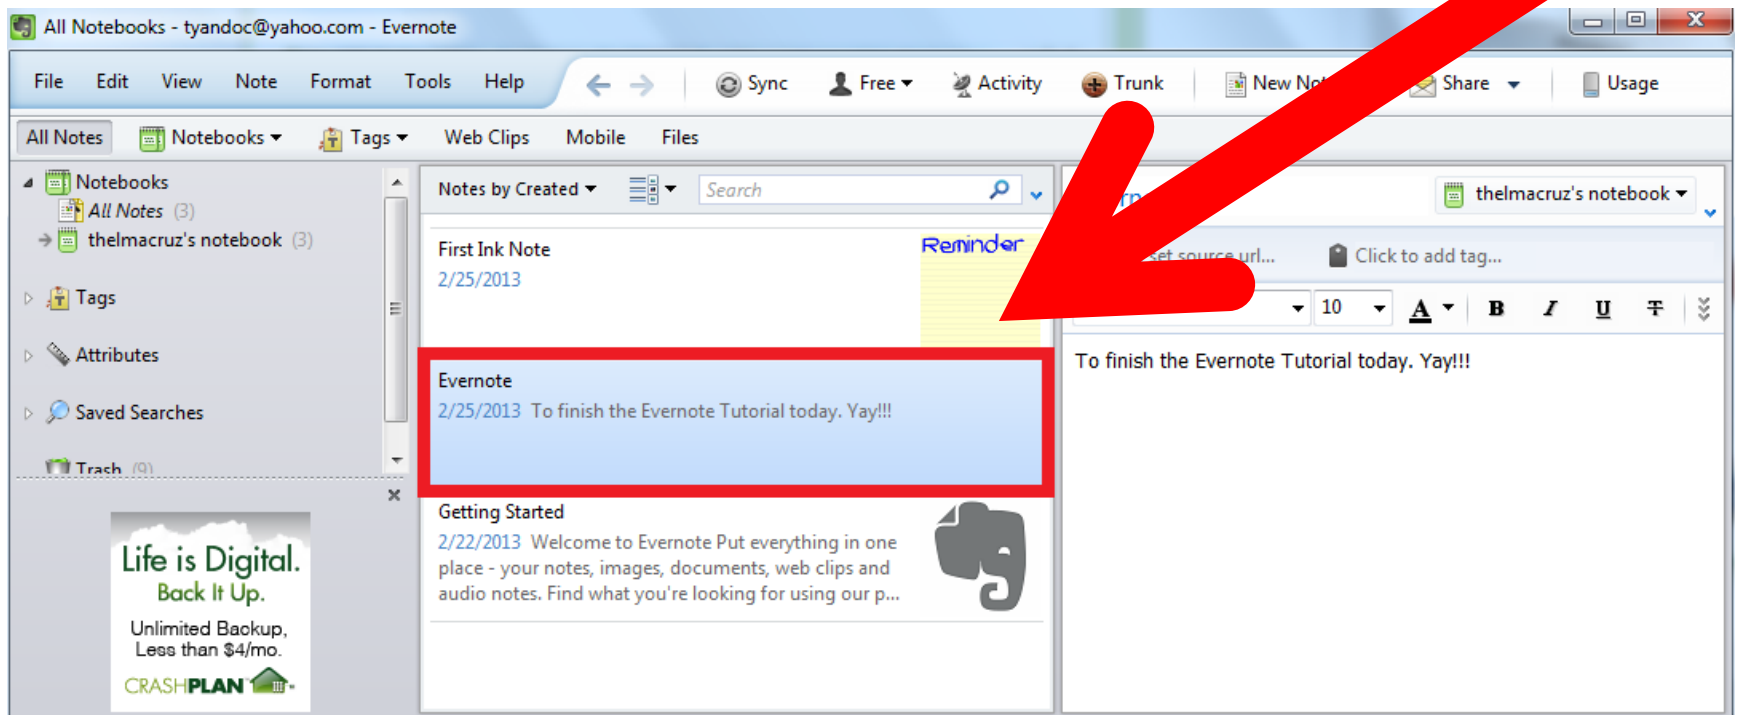

...and press delete in the keyboard

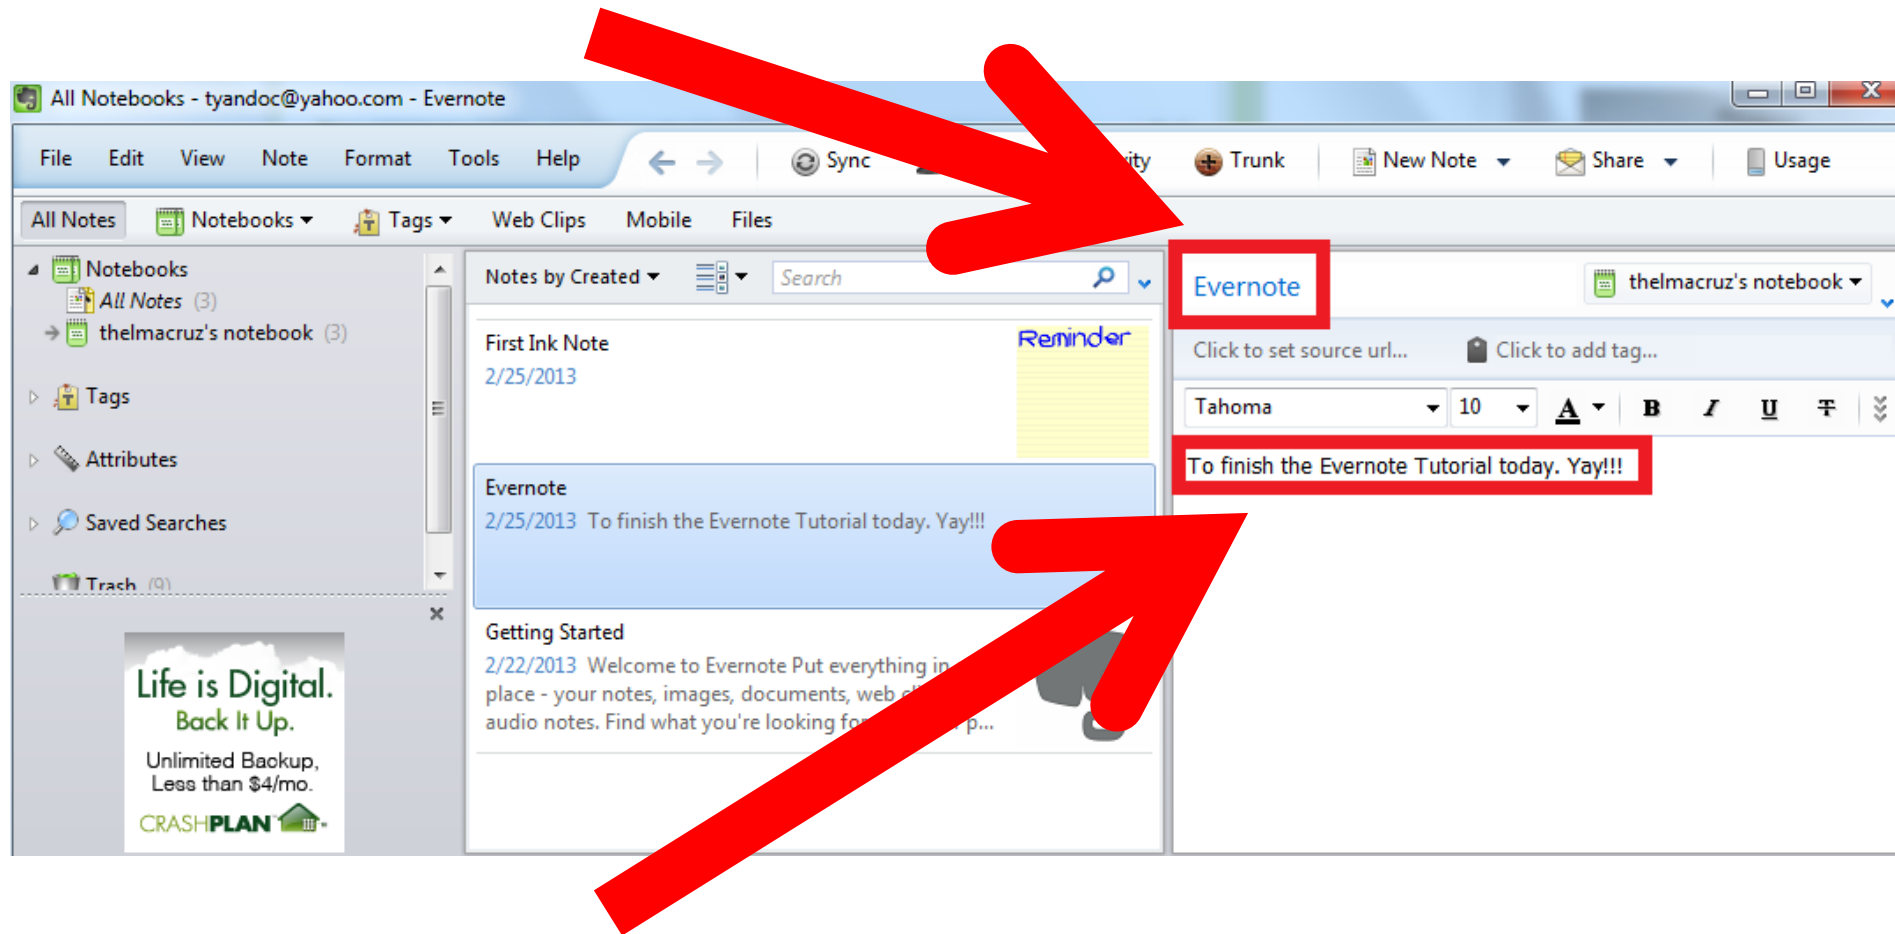

Editing a Note

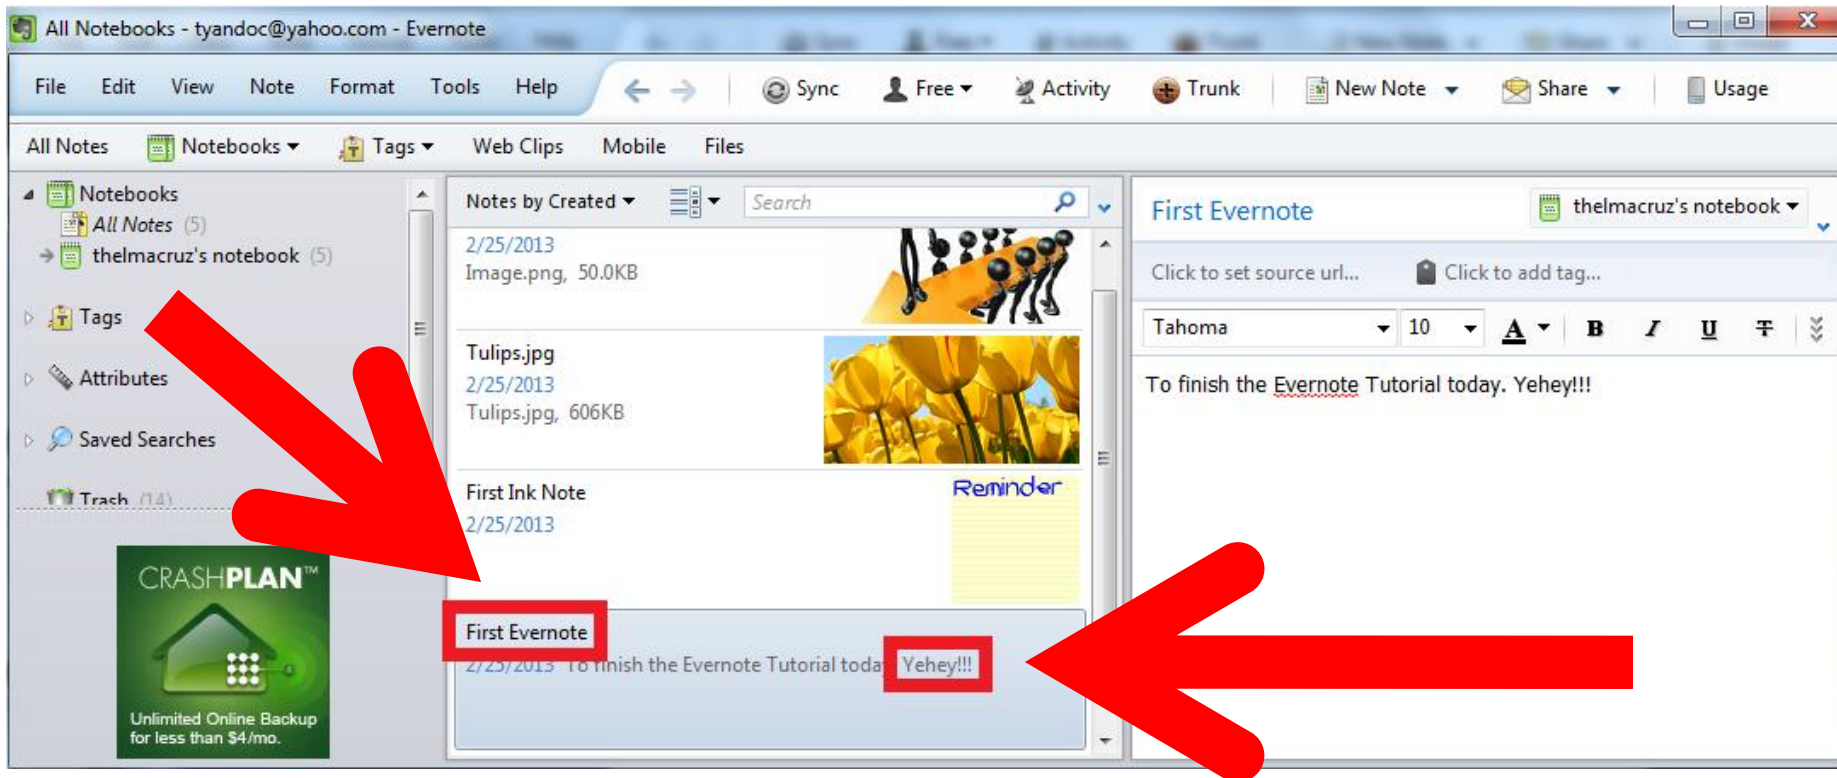

Go to the note in the Note List

Edit the body of the note and title.

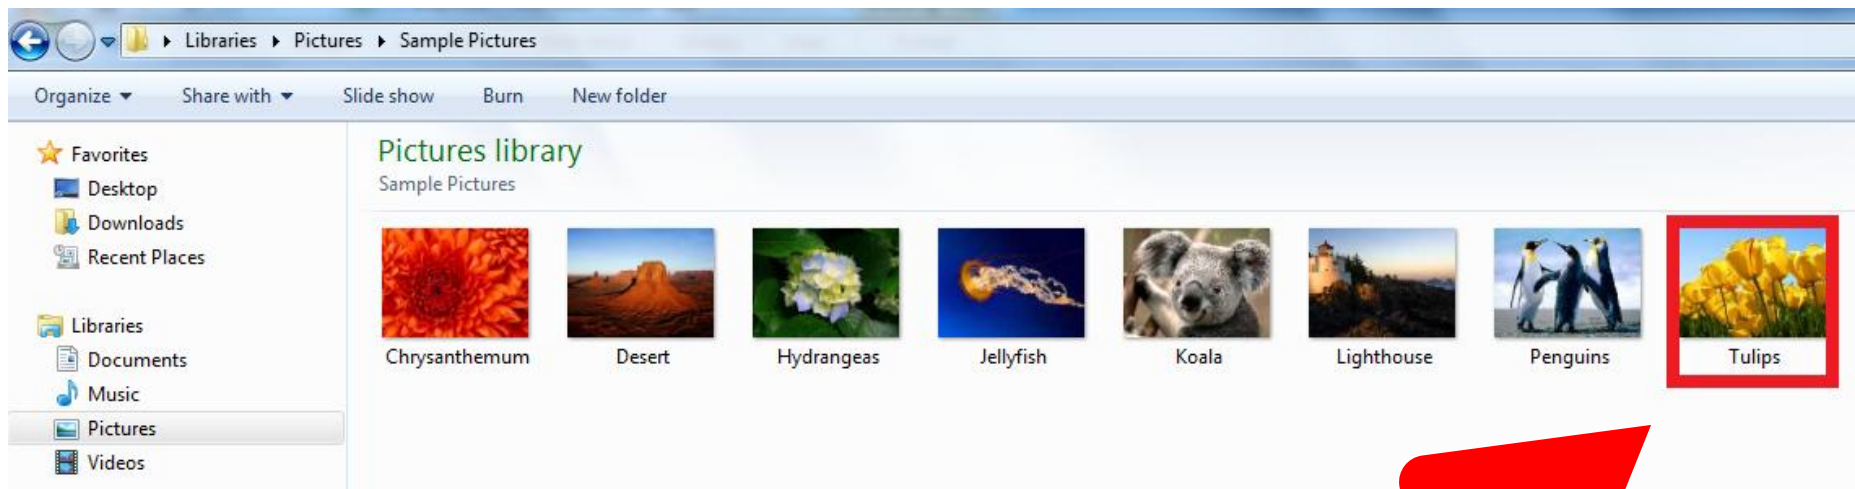

Your note is now being edited

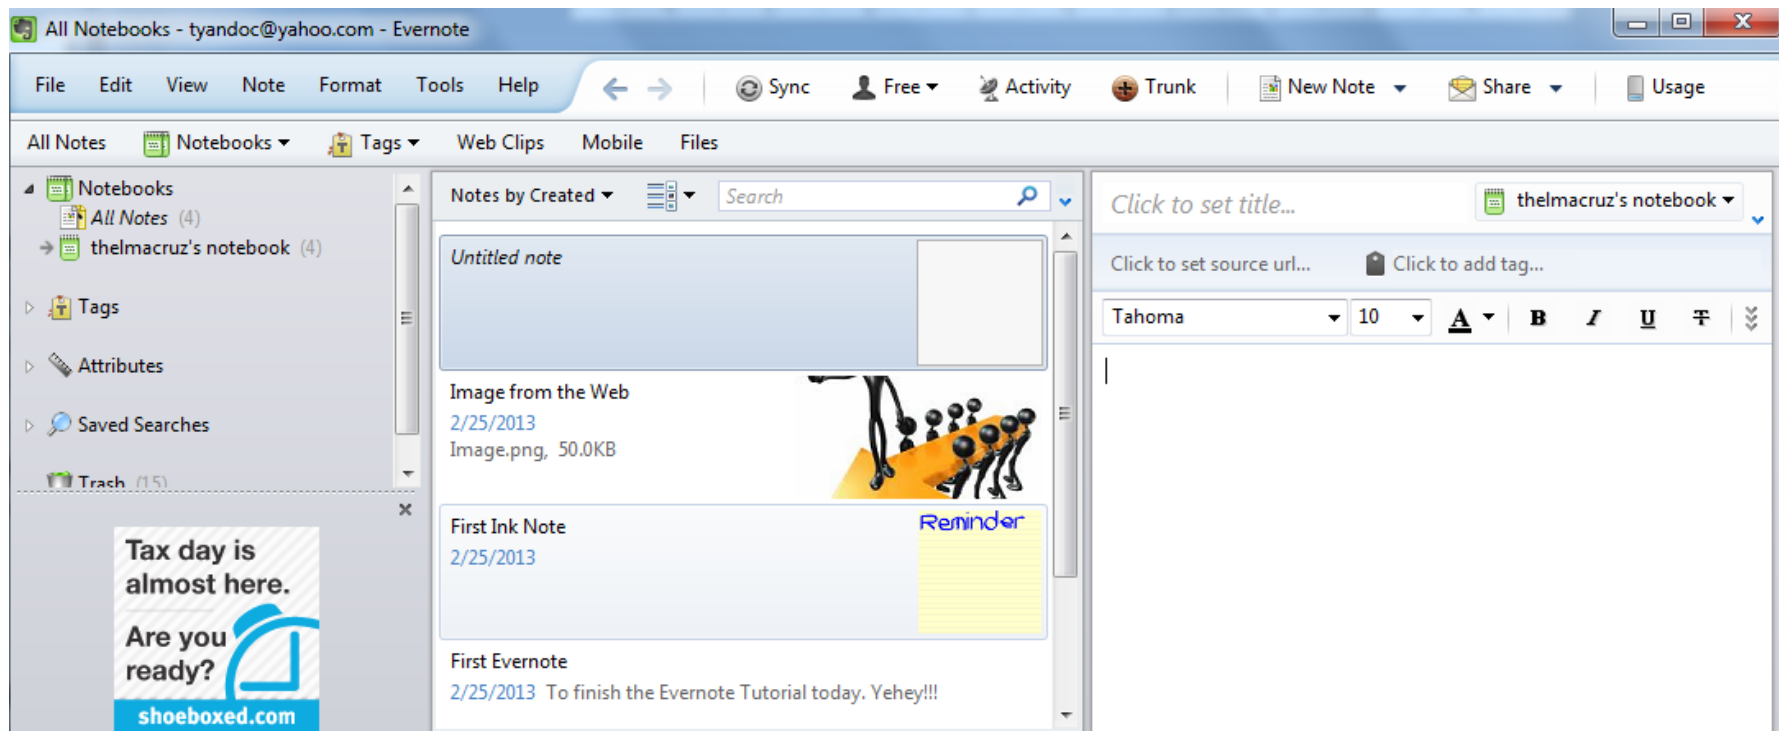

Adding an Image from your computer's desktop

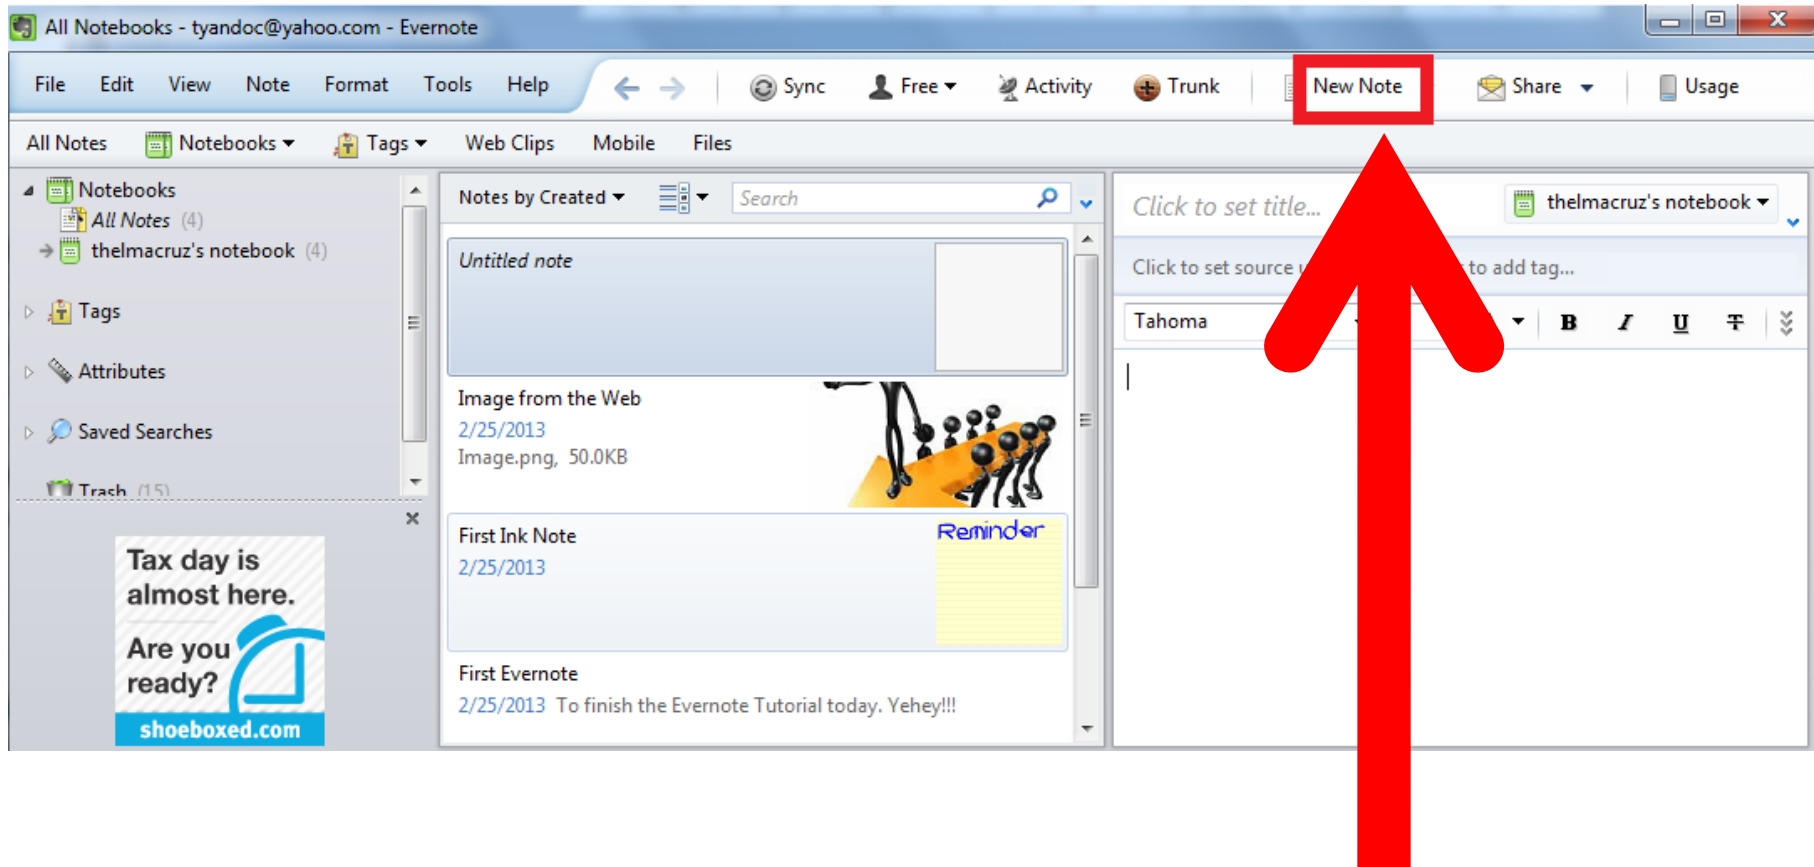

Click on the image in your desktop

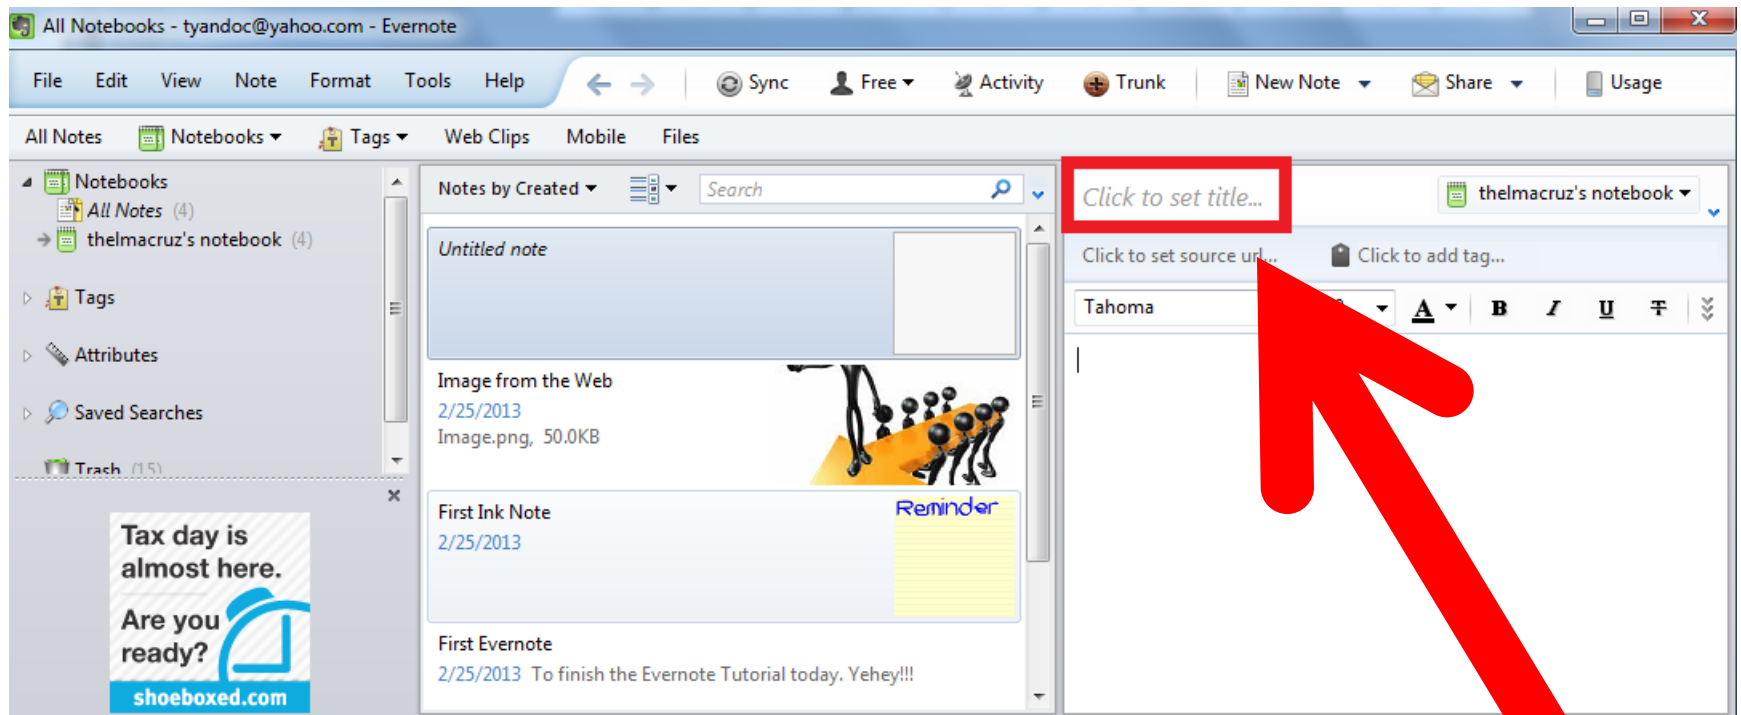

Open the main Evernote window

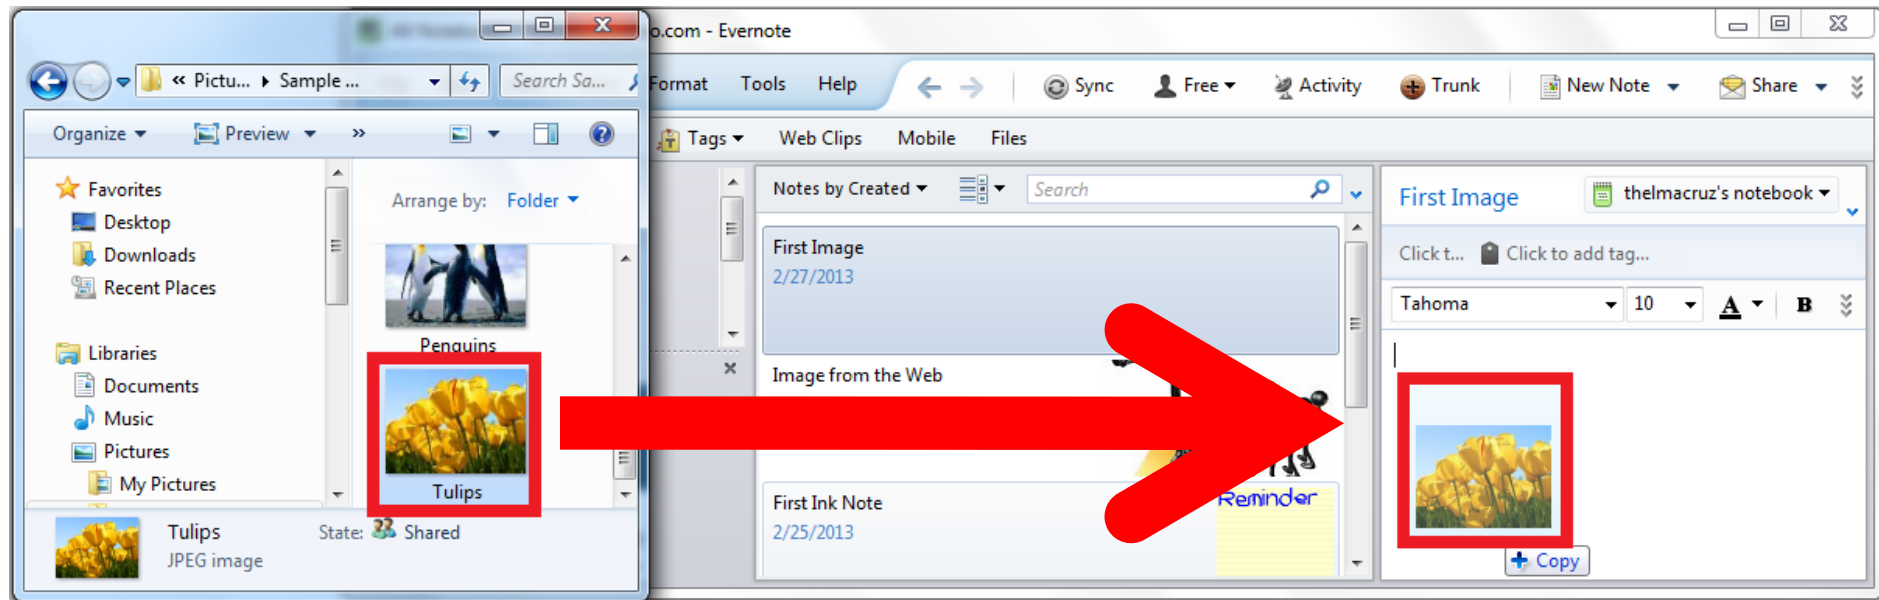

Click that "New Note" button again

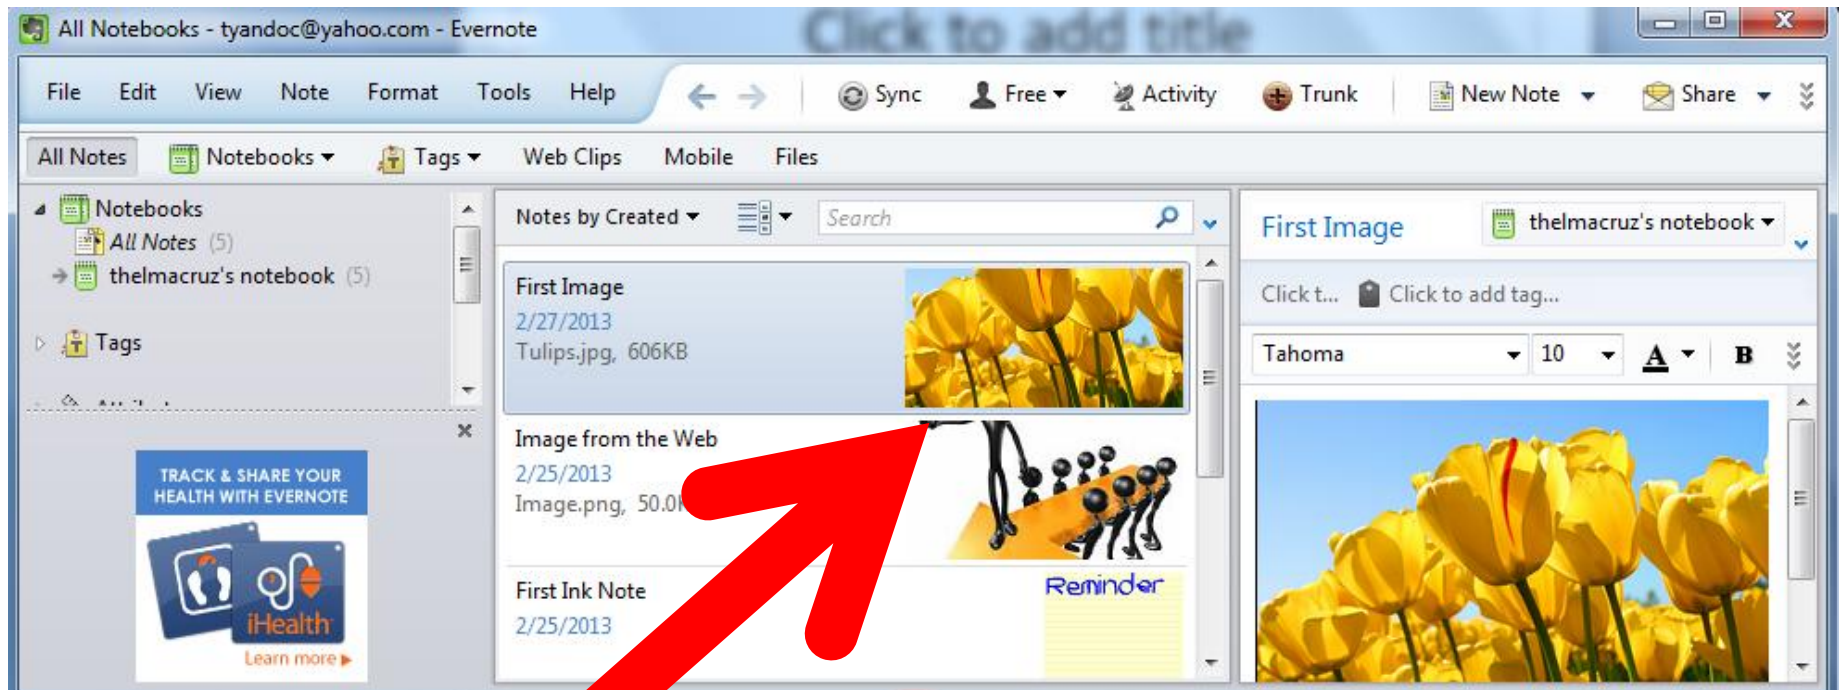

Fill in a title for your first image note

...and drag the image directly into the note body

You can now see the image in the Note list

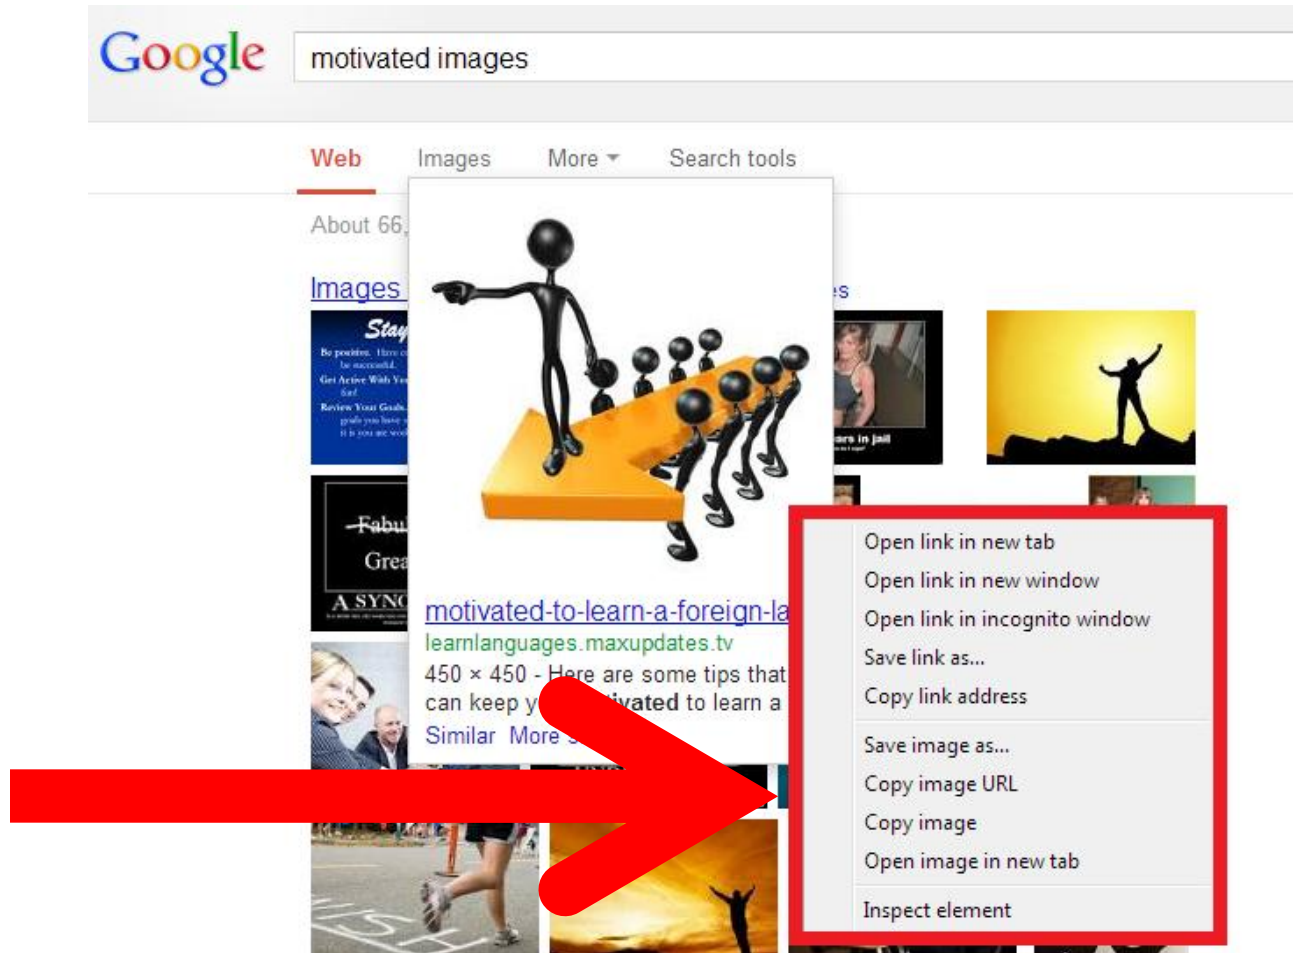

Saving images from the web

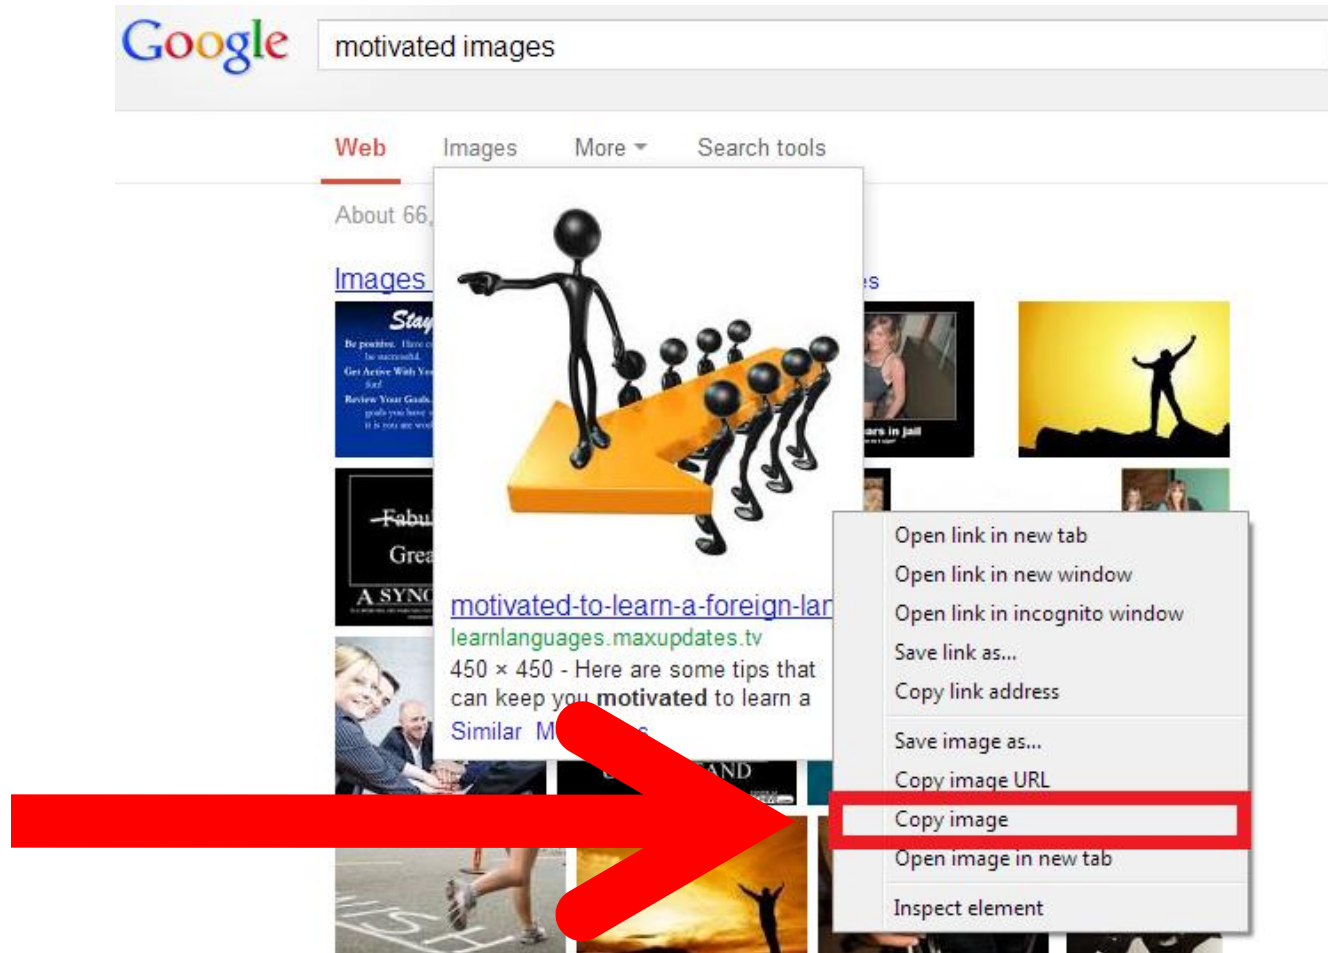

Choose an image from the web

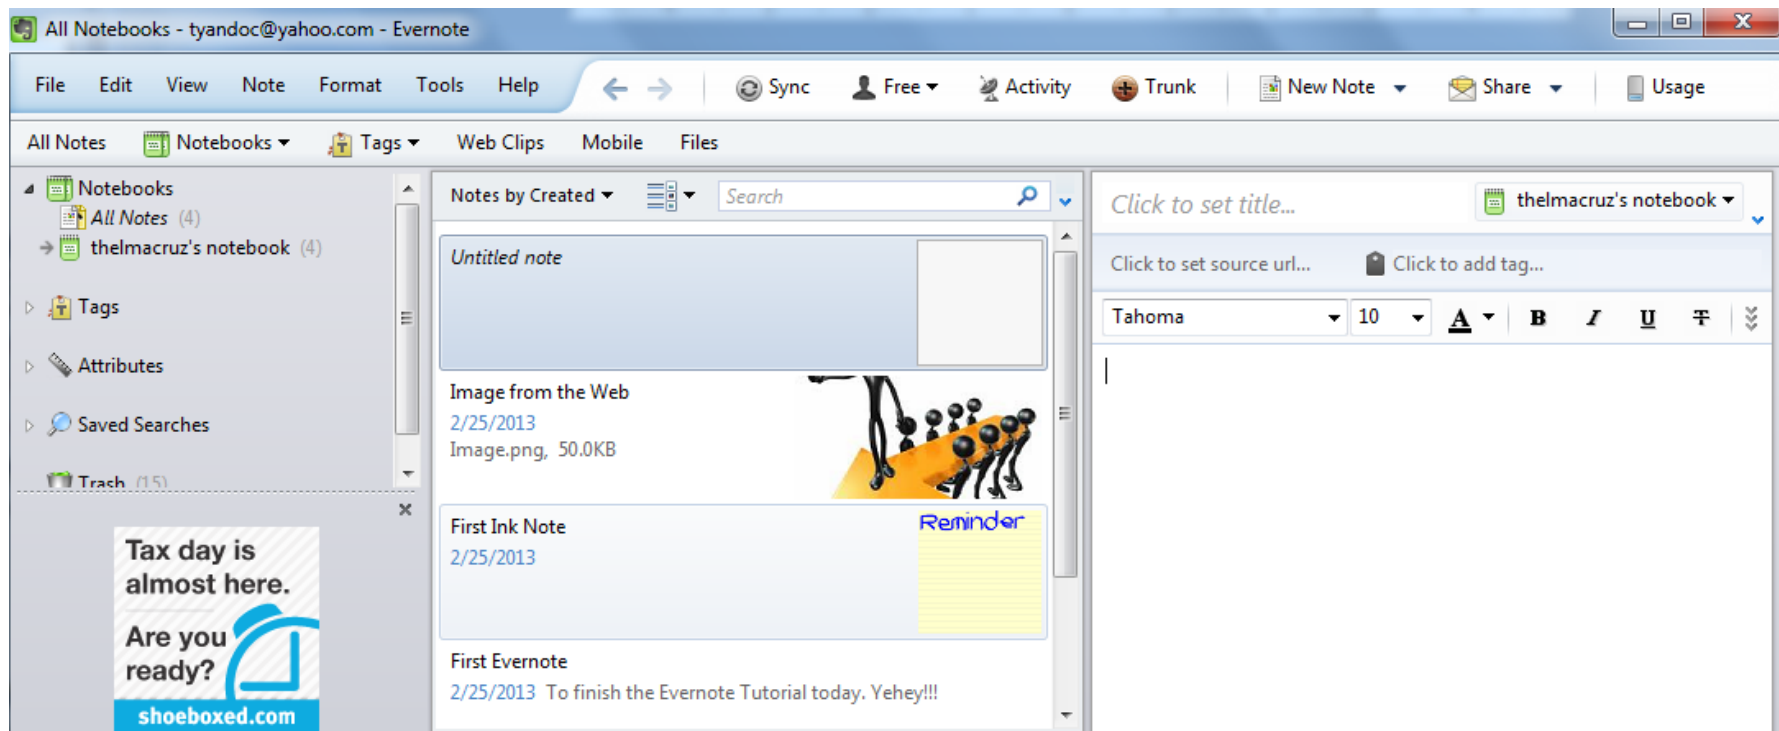

Right click on the image

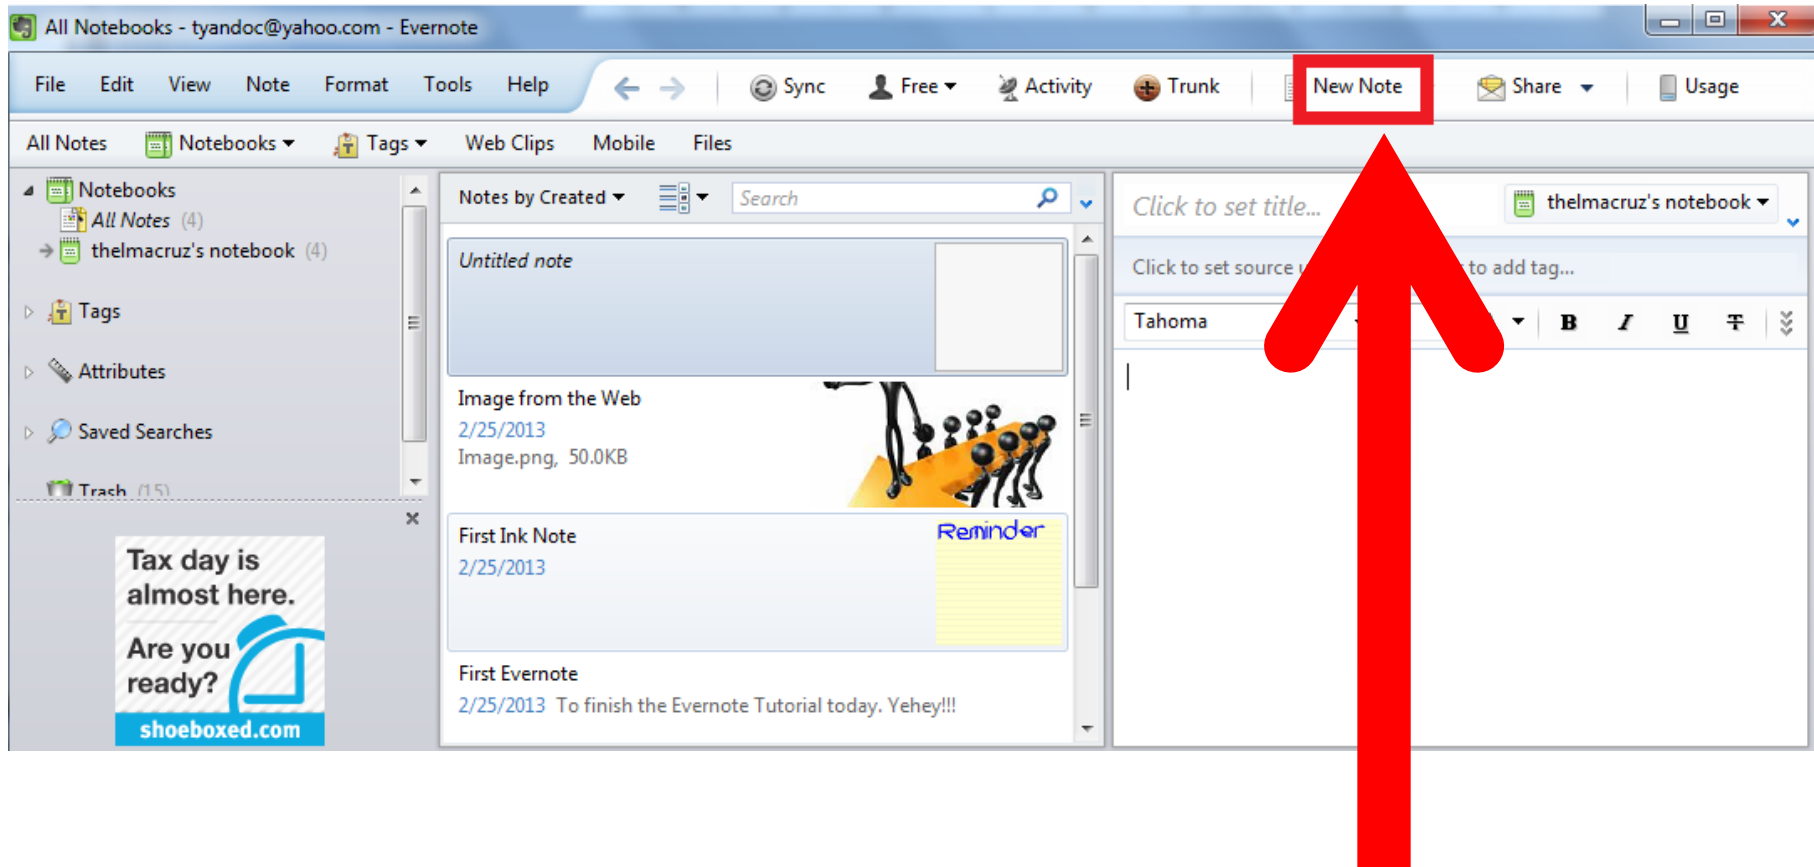

Click on “Copy image”

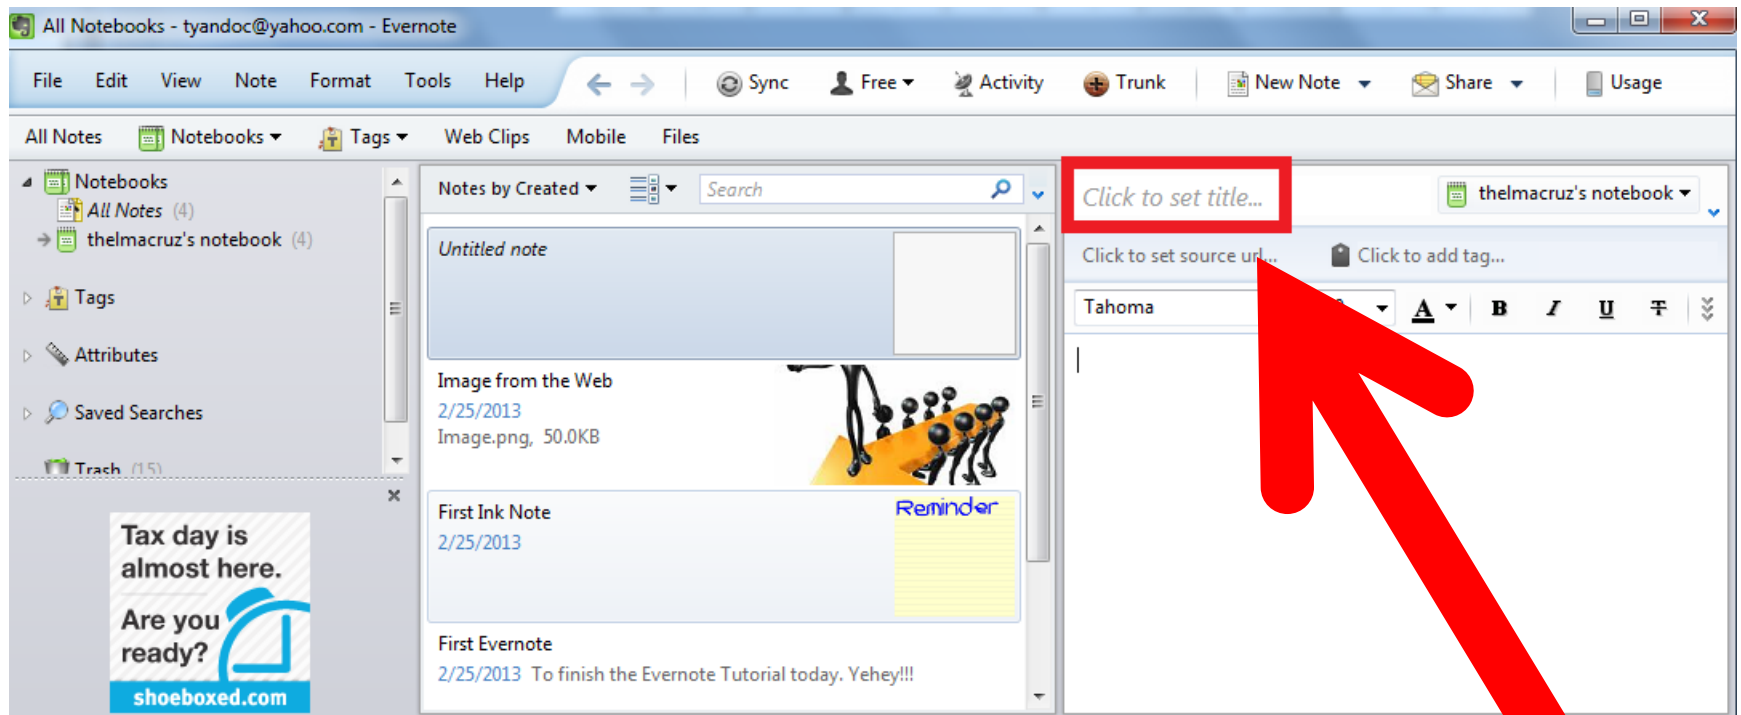

Open the main Evernote window

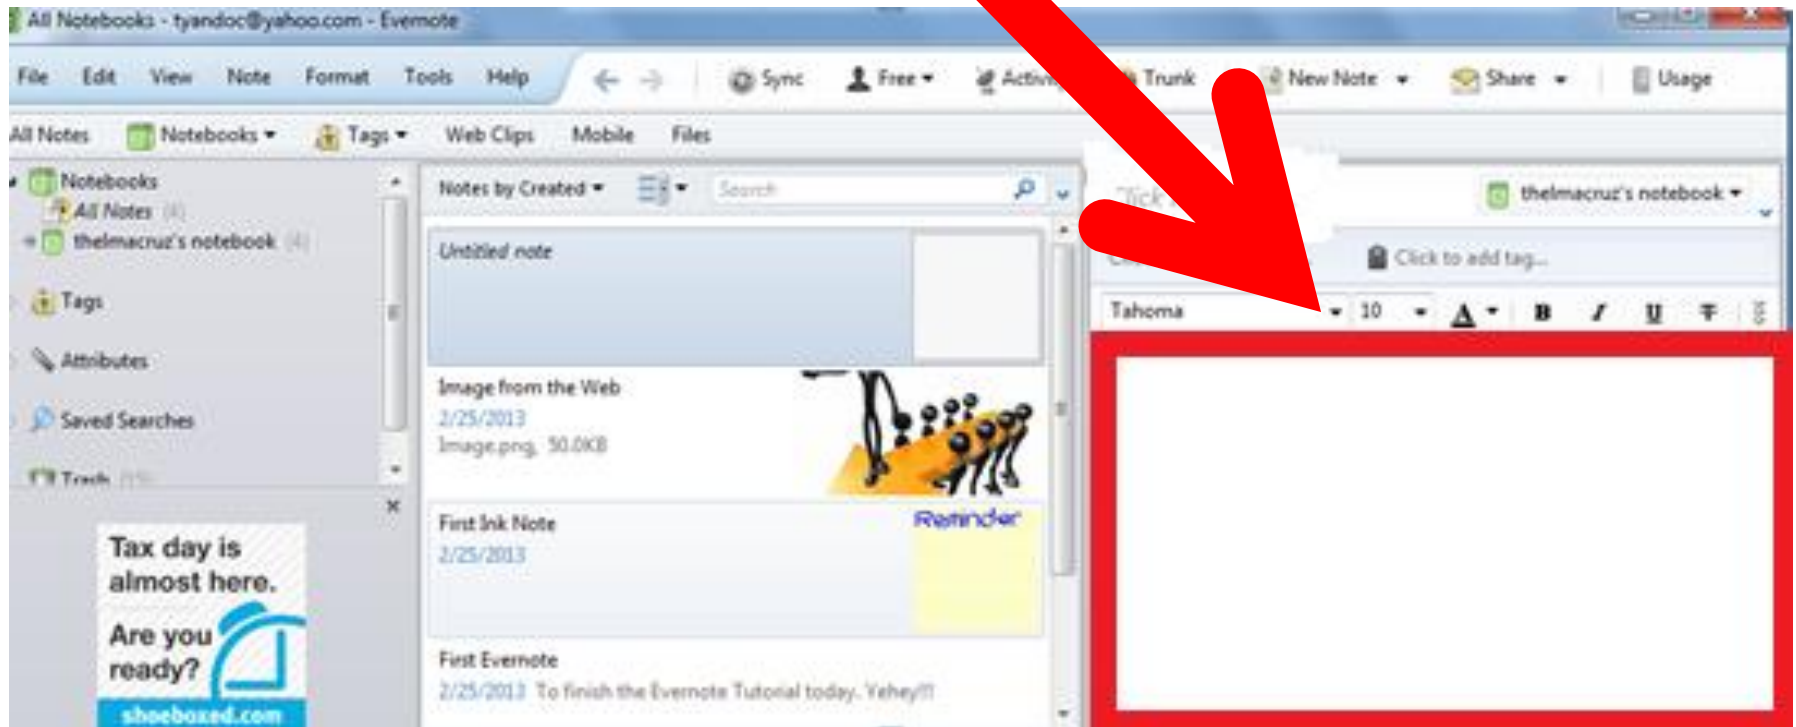

Click that "New Note" button again

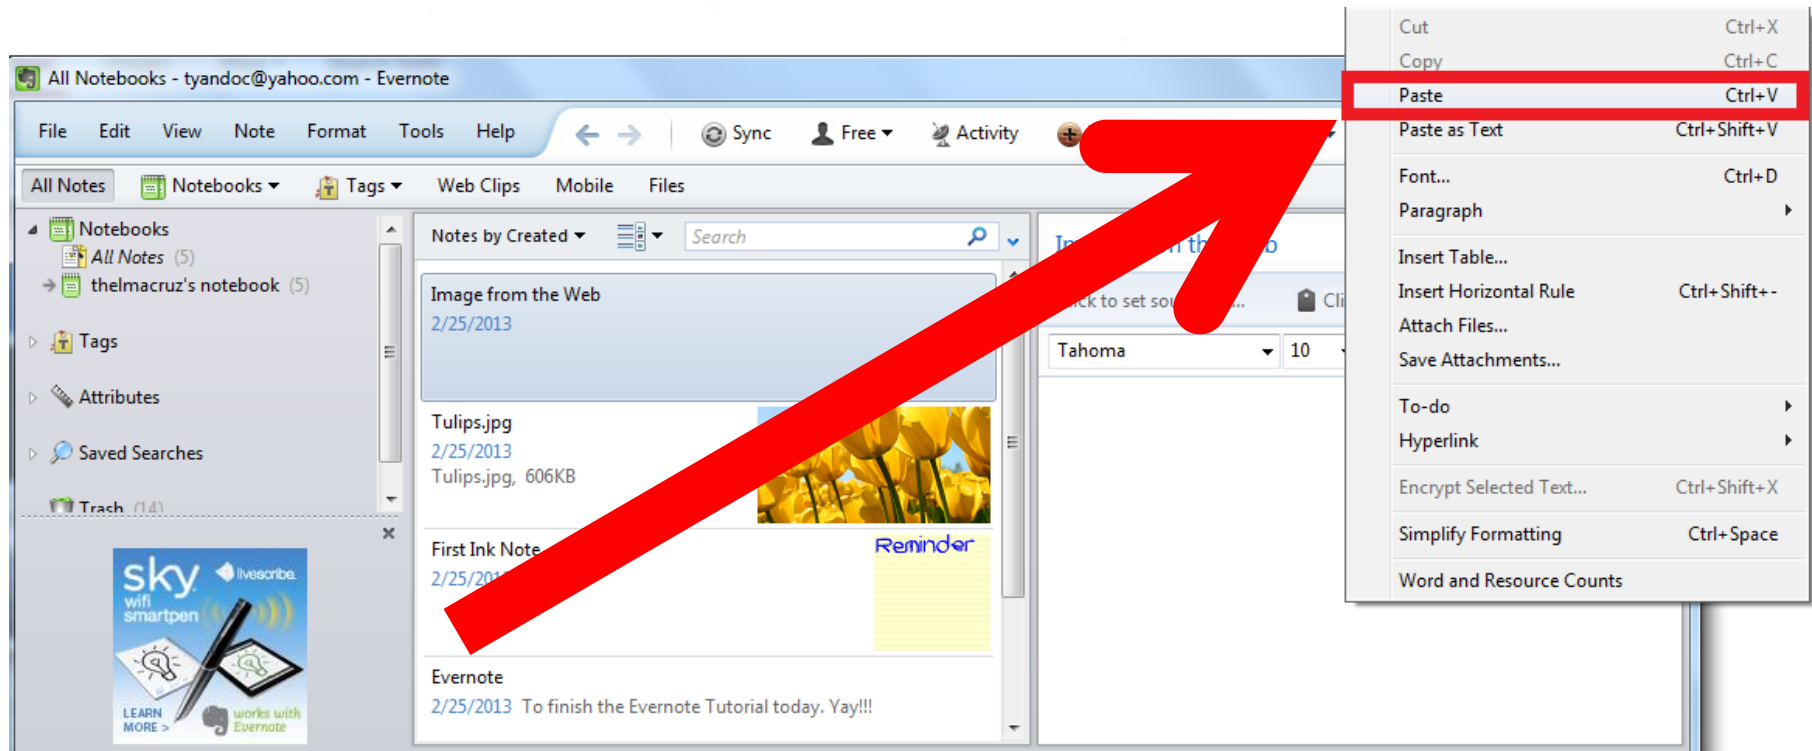

Fill in a title for your first image note

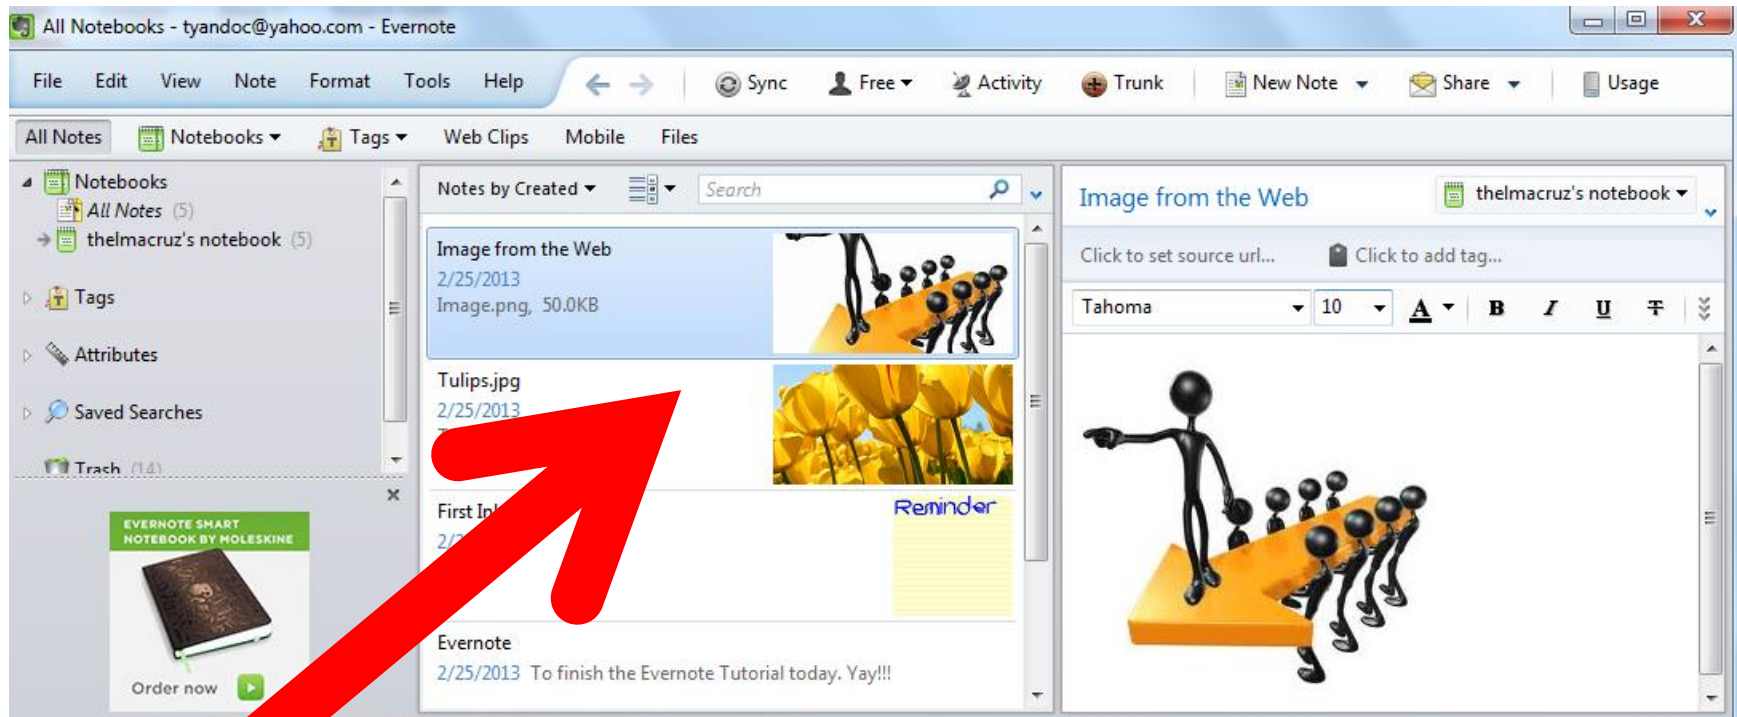

Right click in the body of the note

Hit paste.

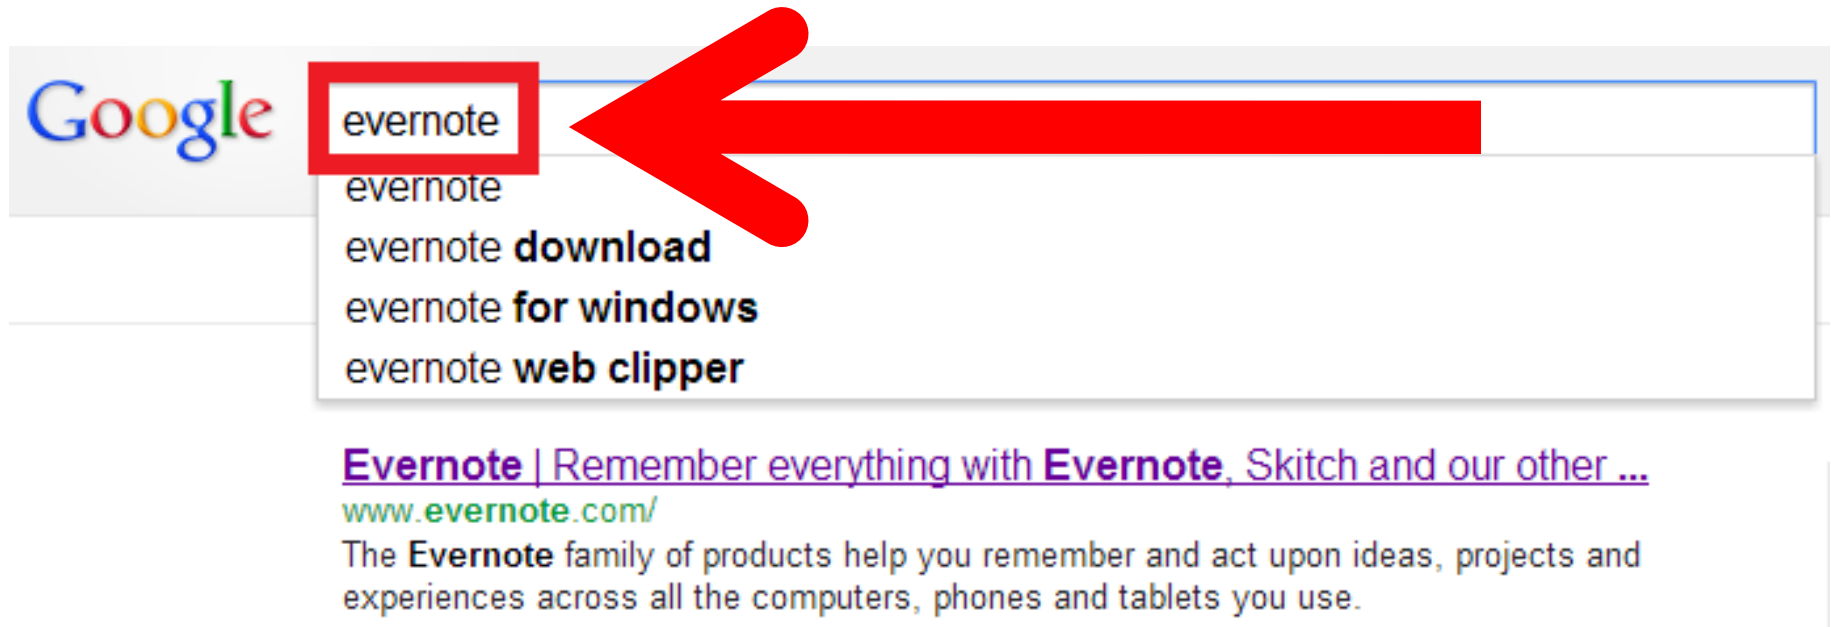

You can now see the image in the Note list

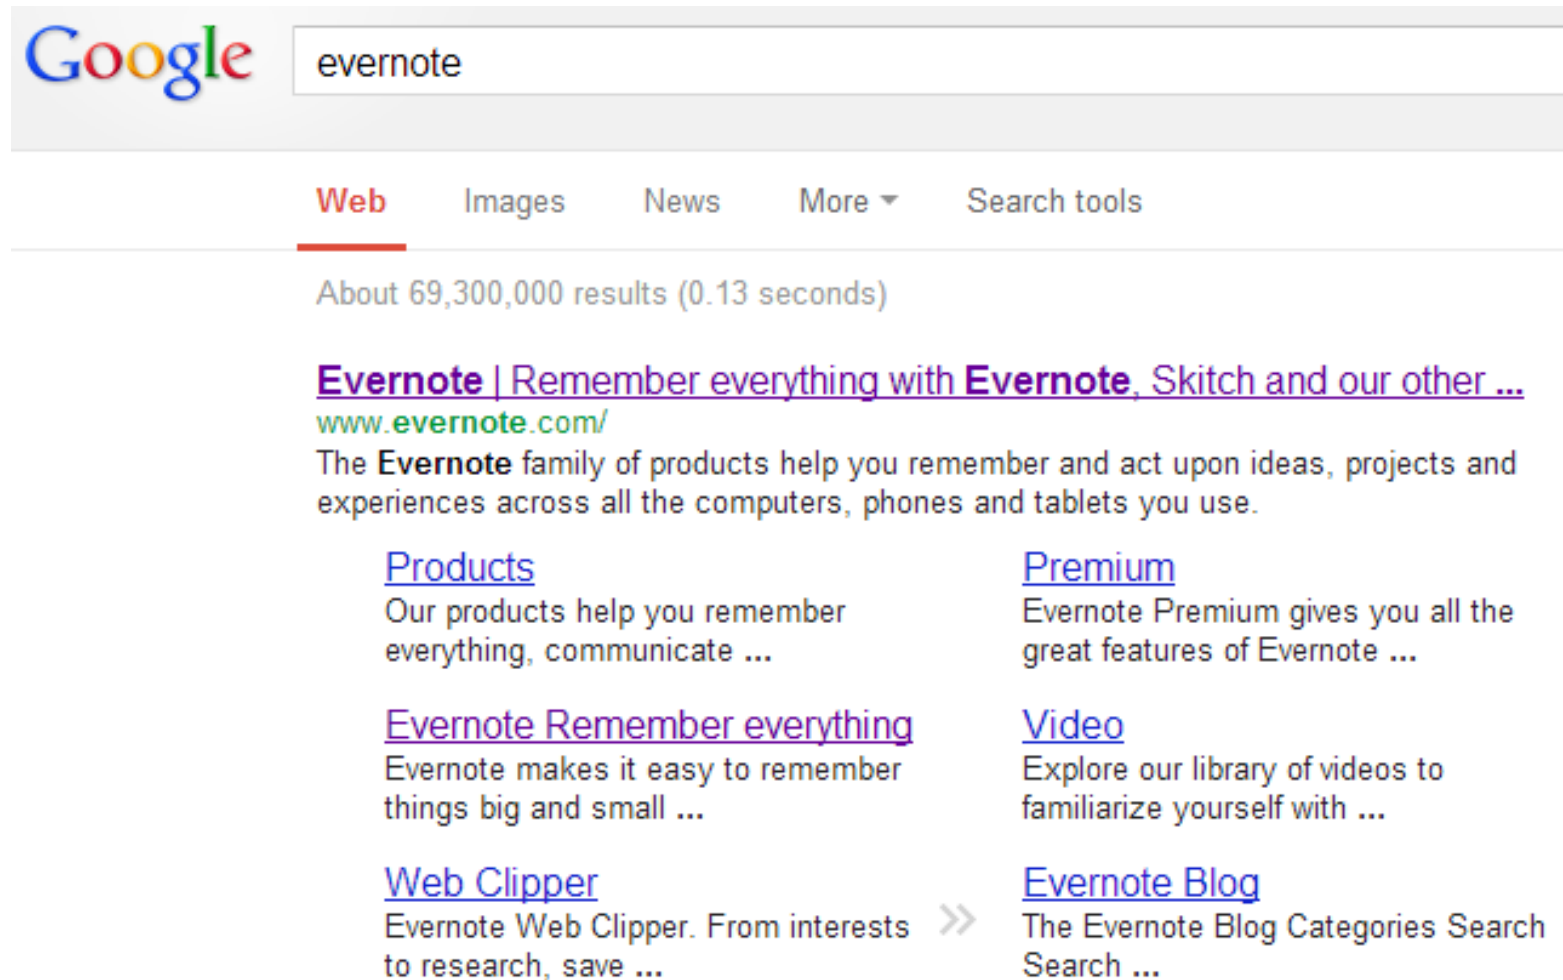

Just like with the text note we created in the last section, your new image note will be synchronized to Evernote on the Web automatically within a couple of minutes. After that, it'll be accessible from anywhere you've installed Evernote — including your smart phone or tablet.

To save web content, add first

The image is a screenshot of a Google search results page for the query 'evernote'. At the top left is the Google logo. To its right is a search bar containing the text 'evernote'. Below the search bar are navigation links: 'Web' (highlighted with a red underline), 'Images', 'News', 'More' (with a dropdown arrow), and 'Search tools'. Below these links, it says 'About 69,300,000 results (0.13 seconds)'. The first search result is for 'Evernote | Remember everything with Evernote, Skitch and our other ...' with the URL 'www.evernote.com/'. Below the title is a short description: 'The Evernote family of products help you remember and act upon ideas, projects and experiences across all the computers, phones and tablets you use.' Under this description are six links arranged in two columns. The left column contains 'Products', 'Evernote Remember everything', and 'Web Clipper'. The right column contains 'Premium', 'Video', and 'Evernote Blog'. Each link is followed by a brief description of the product or service. A double right-pointing arrow '»' is positioned between the 'Web Clipper' and 'Evernote Blog' sections.

Happier Homeschooling

How to Set Goals That Fit Your Family

By Kathy Ceceri, About.com Guide

See More About: homeschool planning getting started

Homeschooling shouldn't be an uphill battle. If your child "doesn't want to learn," the problem may be what she's being taught. And if you're feeling overwhelmed by planning and grading lessons, chances are your kids aren't getting the most out of the experience, either.

I've found that you can make homeschooling happier for all of you by focusing on goals that make sense for your family. Don't worry too much about what your friends or neighbors say, or what you think a school or college is looking for. Students who are well-educated, well-adjusted, and self-motivated are always in demand.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying `homeschooling.about.com/od/gettingstarted/a/Happier-Homeschooling.htm`. The main content area features an article titled "Happier Homeschooling" by Kathy Celeri, with a subheading "How to Set Goals That Fit Your Family". The article text discusses the challenges of homeschooling and offers advice on setting goals. A large red arrow points from the top of the page down to the Evernote Web Clipper icon in the top right corner of the browser window. The Evernote Web Clipper interface is visible, showing fields for "Email address or username" and "Password", along with checkboxes for "Show Related Results when you search the web" and "Remember me", and a "Sign in" button. Below the article, there is an advertisement for "Homeschool Curriculum" from www.torahclass.com. The bottom of the page shows an "Advertisement" banner with the text "Trainers and Coaches Needed: 2013 Programs".
